

THREE DICTATORSHIPS LOOM IN EUROPE

WEEKS MAKES BIG SACRIFICE TO SERVE U. S.

Gave Partnership Worth Millions to His Associates
to Enter Senate

COURAGE OF CONVICTIONS

Allowed Nothing to Interfere
With His Duty as Public Servant

Washington—Few men have ever made the sacrifice of material wealth to enter the public service which the late John W. Weeks voluntarily made when he entered the United States senate.

The true story of the extreme to which Mr. Weeks went to sever all business relationships so that he might vote with a free conscience in the American senate is probably unparalleled in history.

Mr. Weeks had established one of the most successful firms in the investment business under the name of Hornblower and Weeks. His faith in the man who helped him build it up was such that when the time came for his entry into the senate he did not follow the natural course, namely to sell his business, but he actually gave it to his partners.

WORTH SEVERAL MILLIONS

It is estimated that the actual and potential value of Mr. Weeks' partnership at that time was several millions of dollars. There was no announcement about Mr. Weeks' simple gave notice that he had retired. It was an act of philanthropy, however which was characteristic of Mr. Weeks. In a year shortly after his retirement when business was not very good due to an industrial depression, the usual Christmas check was not forthcoming but from his retirement Mr. Weeks sent $10,000 to be divided among the employees.

Talking with the late Secretary of War a few months ago the writer was discussing the importance of financial independence to men who enter public life. Mr. Weeks was a strong believer in the theory that a man who was not dependent on his salary thought less about the dangers of defeat for reelection than the man whose personal plans would be vitally influenced by a sudden retirement from office after many years of service. He believed that inadvertently some men do not vote as their consciences dictate because they are afraid of defeat. Mr. Weeks was never afraid of defeat. He possessed a rare courage which made him one of the outstanding members of the senate even though his service there was brief.

CLEAR THINKER

Facing his Republican colleagues practically all of whom had decided to vote against the Federal Reserve act which created the banking system which has since its establishment in 1914 received such widespread commendation from all parties, Mr. Weeks announced that there was so much good in the measure and so little that was bad he would unhesitatingly vote for the proposal. And he did. The record shows that hardly any Republicans at the time abandoned their partisanship to vote for the Federal Reserve act.

There were other instances of the same independence on the part of Mr. Weeks. He regarded the public service as the highest possible trust. Not only did he retire from business when he entered the senate but he resigned from every directorate and sold every share of stock which might even remotely be affected by pending legislation.

As a secretary of war, Mr. Weeks quickly won the affection of the men in the army. This isn't usual either. As a matter of fact few civilian secretaries are able to command the respect and views with those of the officers who grow up in the service. Mr. Weeks found by tact and thorough study of existing problems that there could be harmony.

ABLE AND MODEST MAN

There was a time when Mr. Weeks was considered for the secretaryship of the treasury. If the Pennsylvania senators had not brought the name of Andrew W. Mellon to Mr. Harding the chances are Mr. Weeks would have been secretary of the treasury. It was a post he would have enjoyed as he was a thorough student of fiscal affairs.

Stories of Mr. Weeks' generosity and particularly his efforts to save the late Senator Brandegee's tangled finances which led to suicide are well known among his friends but he was not the kind who let his deeds in this direction become known. He was one of the most modest men in public life and also one of the most efficient in the present generation of public men.

CAL GETS COAT OF TAN WHILE ON VACATION

President Catches Pound and a Half Black Bass at Osgood Lake Tuesday

Paul Smith, N. Y. (AP)—A week at white pine camp has brought President Coolidge not only fishing laurels to which a pound and a half black bass out of Osgood lake was added Tuesday evening, but also the beginning of a good coat of tan.

When he stepped off his train at Gabriels last Wednesday his face and hands appeared pale in contrast to the bronze countenances of the natives. Wednesday, however, his skin is touched with healthy color applied by the wind and the sun as he whistles away the long days in the seclusion of the wilderness.

If his smile may be taken as indication, he surely must be enjoying himself, members of his party believe. Those who have spoken to him in the first week of his vacation have been impressed by his boyish enthusiasm over his woodland surroundings and by his pleasure at being freed to a large extent from the exacting routine of office.

He jokes with his companions at the camp and banters them occasionally about their own fishing records, which lag somewhat behind his own. On the few occasions he has left the shores of Osgood lake, he has been smiling pleasantly and has appeared rather eager to return to his vacation home to don old togs once more.

MERCHANDISE TRADE TOTALS $286,829,711

Washington, D. C. (AP)—The United States closed the fiscal year ended June 30 with a favorable merchandise trade balance of $286,829,711.

Doctor Says Mrs. Yohanek Died When Home Burned

Manitowoc (AP)—A jury of 12 men holding in their hands the fate of John Yohanek, oldest defendant in a murder trial in the history of Wisconsin Wednesday heard the defense theory of the manner in which the wife of the Kellnersville recluse met death in that village last February. Opening its fight for acquittal of the 80 year old defendant on a charge of first degree murder, the defense matched the murder theory of the state, with contentions that the woman perished in the flames that destroyed the living quarters of the couple in a fire early on the morning of Feb. 23. Through the testimony of Dr. William Becker, Milwaukee pathologist, the first witness called after the state rested an hour after court opened Wednesday, the defense presented to the jury its theory that all the evidence found in the ruins of the home plainly refute the state's contentions of foul play.

Becker was the principal witness at the morning session of the third day of the trial before Judge Chester M. Fowler in the Manitowoc circuit court. Attorney William Rubin, Milwaukee, hand were used to mutilate,

CAN'T LEARN EXACT NUMBER DEAD IN BLAST

Unable to Ascertain Details Surrounding Explosion at Naval Depot

Dover, N. J. (AP)—Indications Wednesday were the exact number of victims of the explosion that destroyed the naval ammunition depot at Lake Denmark wrecked the Picatinny army arsenal and damaged a dozen New Jersey towns probably would never be known.

Even the lightning bolt that set off the $75,000,000 explosion probably never will gain official recognition as the only men who saw close at hand were picked up dead near the building that was struck or have vanished. The list of missing has varied from hour to hour, and Brigadier General Hugh Drum in charge of policing the area has not at any time been willing to make any positive statement as to the number. All records at the arsenal were destroyed. As late as Tuesday three marines who have not been listed at missing made their appearance in a dazed condition.

The death roll stood at 21 Wednesday. A heavy rain during the night made for safety as marines continued searching for additional bodies. The latest unofficial estimates place property damage as high as $65,000,000 for the Picatinny army arsenal and $6,000,000 for civilians. Four towns were practically devastated. In Mount Hope 107 company owned miners cottages were wholly or partly destroyed. Wharton, Rockway and Hibernia were the three other towns that suffered the greatest damage. Smashed plate glass, plaster and debris were strewn through the streets of Dover, Milford, New Foundland, Loxemburg, Denville, Succasunna and Ironia.

Investigators believe that Ormiston has left the state. Officials refused to state as to whether Mr. Kennedy was questioned by the county grand jury. Tuesday concerning the telegram. The grand jury recessed after Tuesday's session to reconvene Thursday.

CONDEMNED BOY GETS REPRIEVE

Donald Ringer, 19, Will Be Given Hearing on Appeal to Commute Sentence

Lincoln Neb. (AP)—Donald Ringer, 19, the youngest Nebraskan ever condemned to death was buoyed up today by his 23 day leave on life granted Tuesday, two hours before his first four day reprieve expired. The second reprieve until August 10 was granted by governor McMillen after the board of pardons and paroles had decided for a special hearing August 13 on Ringer's amended application for commutation of his death sentence. As the hearing will be held three days after reprieve expired, another reprieve will be necessitated.

SEEK MAN TO CAST LIGHT ON AIMEE'S TALE

Officers Concentrate on Attempt to Locate Former Temple Radio Operator

Los Angeles, Calif. (AP)—Rev. R. P. (Bob) Shuler, pastor of Trinity Methodist church Los Angeles and reform leader of the city, Wednesday addressed a letter to Superior Judge Kootch protesting against what the minister termed the "muzzling" of the county grand jury in its investigation of the Aimee Semple McPherson disappearance and reappearance mystery.

Los Angeles, Calif. (AP)—Officers investigating the abduction story of Aimee Semple McPherson, Wednesday concentrated on the attempt to locate Kenneth G. Ormiston former temple radio operator who disappeared a few days after Mrs. McPherson was reported drowned at Ocean park May 18.

The motive for the extension of the search was believed to have been disclosed in the publication by the Los Angeles Times Wednesday of a report that Ormiston had been partially identified as the man who sent a telegram to Mrs. Minnie Kennedy, the evangelist's mother, on May 21, saying the evangelist was safe.

Investigators believe that Ormiston has left the state. Officials refused to state as to whether Mr. Kennedy was questioned by the county grand jury. Tuesday concerning the telegram. The grand jury recessed after Tuesday's session to reconvene Thursday.

The times says the telegram sent Mrs. Kennedy read: "Angelus Temple Eden Park, Los Angeles. Mother McPherson: 'Daughter O. K. period. Do not worry period. Communication proven period. Am signing for J. H. A. who I believe O. K. Details by mail. 'Dr. Murten'."

Handwriting on the telegraph blank is said by experts to be identical with that of a letter written by Ormiston. Partial identification of the sender of the telegram was made by Leslie Bland, 17, and Clifford Fraser, 17, of the Oakland telegraph office by means of photographs of Ormiston. They said the sender took elaborate precautions to hide his identity. According to the two, the man drove up in front of the telegraph office some time before 11 P. M. May 21 and blew the horn of his automobile until Bland, a delivery boy, and Fraser, his chum, went out to the car. Bland who said the man in the car resembled photographs of Ormiston told of accompanying him some distance from the telegraph office where he dictated a message. The man then tore up the message and wrote another. Bland took the revised message to the telegraph office.

Both Bland and Fraser said that the automobile was a closed model of the same make as that owned by the former radio operator.

BULGARIA AND RUMANIA HAVE FRONTIER FIGHT

Paris (AP)—Havas dispatches from Bucharest, Rumania, say incursions of Bulgarian comitadjis (irregulars) on the Dobruja frontier are continuing. There has been fighting with dead and wounded on both sides. Rumania and Bulgaria have each pointed to the other as the aggressor in the present frontier troubles. The Rumanian war minister last Saturday announced that about 250 armed men had penetrated three miles into Rumanian territory before being checked by infantry. The casualties were fixed at 26 Bulgarians dead and six Rumanian soldiers wounded, with 10 missing and believed to be dead.

CRANDON SAWMILL DESTROYED IN FIRE

Crandon (AP)—Fire of unknown origin Tuesday night destroyed the sawmill of the Charles W. Fish Lumber Co. at Hiles, Wisconsin about 14 miles north of Crandon causing damage estimated at between $50,000 and $60,000.

The fire which started in the engine room levelled the frame building in about 30 minutes despite the work of the Crandon fire department which was called.

The company which has three other mills in Wisconsin have about 10 years cutting left in the vicinity of the fire and the officials were unable to state whether or not they would rebuild.

LAUGHTER IS BIG ASSET TO WORK WORLD

Dean of University Tells Business Women to Laugh More

Des Moines, Ia. (AP)—Laughter is a business asset, Miss Thyra Amos, dean of women of the University of Pittsburgh, Wednesday told delegates to the national convention of the federation and professional women. Miss Amos warned that too much worry and not enough merriment would detract from a business woman's efficiency adding that men laugh more than women over trivial affairs thereby relieving nervous conditions that may easily affect their business responsibilities.

She counseled acceptance of the theory that laughter was an antidote for sympathy. Clinched lists of some delegates who found themselves on opposite sides of questions taken up in group meetings Tuesday were referred to by Miss Amos as a suitable, laughter provoking subject and she advised the business women to laugh off "the difficulties when the controversial matters come up in general sessions.

ASK NEWSPAPERS TO HELP SOLVE MURDER

Boston, Mass. (AP)—Police called upon newspapers to aid them in the solution of the mysterious murder of an attractive young woman whose dismembered body awaited identification in the city morgue.

A reconstructed picture of the girl's face was printed in the newspapers in the effort at identification. The police are seeking the driver of a large blue sedan seen near cemetery wall in the Manhattan district where the body was found Tuesday morning. The car was observed at the spot shortly after midnight Tuesday.

Smyrna, Turkey (AP)—Thirteen persons convicted of plotting to kill Mustafa Kemal Pasha president of Turkey, were hanged here at daybreak Wednesday.

5 MEN HELD BY POLICE HAVE BAD RECORDS

Superior Authorities Find That Quintet Has Been Arrested Before

Superior (AP)—The five men arrested Tuesday morning suspected of having planned to rob the Bank of Commerce in daylight, all have police record according to local police who are getting in touch with other authorities and comparing Bertillon records.

One who gave his name as Fred Brown, age 45, is declared known to other police by three older aliases and is wanted at Milwaukee for alleged complicity in the $300,000 robbery of the Northwestern National bank on Dec. 8, 1924. Brown is known also as Matthew McNeil, Thomas Lynch and James Murphy.

Thomas Baronne, age 31, another of the quintet is wanted at Minneapolis for highway robbery. Another Brank Smith is declared to be an escaped convict from the Utah state penitentiary. He got out of there in October 1925. Superior authorities declare. Frank Patterson is known to have been arrested at Minneapolis for carrying concealed weapons.

The entire five are wanted at Estherville, Iowa, for slugging and robbing two men June 30, 1926, it is declared. The car they had in their possession is owned by a man in Minneapolis and was stolen last April.

GANGSTERS KILL ANOTHER VICTIM

Find Bullet Riddled Body on Lonely Roadside 25 Miles from Chicago

Chicago (AP)—Jules Portuguese, 24, year old convicted gun thief and once before a target for gangster guns early Wednesday was "taken for a ride" and his bullet riddled body left by a lonely roadside 25 miles from Chicago.

Two boys returning from a fishing trip found the body lying almost in the path of automobiles. Broken glass, as of an automobile windshield the fact that more than $100 was on the body and the four bullet wounds in the head immediately indicated to police that the victim had been killed in the traditional gang fashion.

Several hours later, fingerprints disclosed that the dead man was Portuguese, who first was linked with alcohol warfare in connection with the murder of Dean O'Bannon, gang chieftain, and who last fall was wounded by a volley from a passing automobile.

Last December Portuguese and a companion who escaped held up the representative of a New York jewelry firm and the slain man was captured with the $360,000 loot in diamonds. He was convicted but later released on a writ pending review of his case.

Atlanta, Ga. (AP)—Bobby Jones, open golf champion of America and Great Britain and amateur champion of America all at the same time, is a difficult boy to interview. But that is not at all because he is the first official golfing champion of the world. It is because he is one of the most modest boys in the world. It required a good deal of convincing to gain his first, and very likely his last formal interview on golf.

"All right," he said, "where do we start?"

"Where you started golf," suggested.

"How did you get your game?"

"Luck," he answered succinctly. "The biggest piece of golfing luck I ever had was when the Atlantic Athletic Club got Stewart Maiden for its professional. I was five years

ANDREWS CONFERS WITH BRITISH ON BOOTLEG QUESTION

London (AP)—Brigadier General Lincoln C. Andrews, America's prohibition enforcement chief, will have his first meeting with British government officials Thursday to seek ways of putting thorns in the pathway of the Trans Atlantic bootleggers. There will be a round table discussion at the foreign office between all the American experts of General Andrews' Mission and representatives of the British foreign office, board of trade administration, customs department and colonial office.

ROBERT SCOTT MAY NOT SAVE HIS BROTHER

Counsel Declares That He Will Deny Firing Shot That Killed Drug Clerk

Chicago (AP)—Robert Scott Wednesday was sentenced to life imprisonment for the murder of Joseph Maurer, a drug clerk.

Chicago (AP)—Robert Scott would answer "no" to a question whether he fired the shot that killed Joseph Maurer, a drug clerk, his counsel declared Wednesday when the controversy whether the prisoner should take the witness stand was resumed.

The prosecution proposed that Scott, who already has pleaded guilty to the charge of murder—the killing of Maurer of which his brother Russell was convicted and was sentenced to be hanged next October 15—take the witness stand to answer just one question.

"Did you fire the shot that killed Joseph Maurer?"

Scott's attorney, William Scott Stewart, who Tuesday declared that Robert would not take the stand because he would rather be hanged than to testify in a way to injure Russell, immediately accepted the proposition. He declared Robert's answer would be "no." But Judge William N. Gemmill, who is hearing testimony to determine the punishment to be imposed said he would want Robert to tell his past history.

3 KILLED, 9 MISSING AND 11 HURT IN FIRE

Tannersville, N. Y. (AP)—Three persons were killed, nine are missing and eleven injured in a fire that destroyed Twilight Inn at Haines Fall early Wednesday morning.

There were 48 guests at the hotel and about 40 employees. The fire started from unknown cause and spread with great rapidity. Many of the guests being forced to jump from the windows.

ANTI-FASCIST GENERAL MUST FIGHT TWO DUELS

Milan, Italy (AP)—General Benicenga, well known as a leader of the opposition to the fascist government, faces two duels as a result of recent criticism of an article written by Arnaldo Mussolini, brother of the premier. Arnaldo Mussolini sent the General a challenge a few days ago, while Sandro Cullini one of the editors of Popolo d'Italia sent him a challenge Wednesday.

ITALY, FRANCE AND BELGIUM MAY CHANGE

Financial Crisis Is Responsible for Plans to Institute New Rule

KING GIVEN FULL POWER

Bills Providing for Rights of Dictator Are Up Before Nations

Brussels (AP)—Three virtual dictatorships loom in Europe as a direct outcome of the financial crisis. The Belgian chamber of deputies Tuesday night adopted on first reading a bill which would give King Albert full powers to issue such decrees as he may see fit for stabilizing exchange.

The French minister of finance, M. Caillaux will submit a similar bill to the finance committee of the French chamber Friday.

Meanwhile Italy is discussing whether Premier Mussolini and his cabinet should be made responsible to the king and not to parliament thus vesting them with extreme authority to deal with the situation.

Institution of a new gold basis currency is understood to be the principal remedy upon which government experts pin their faith to extricate Belgium from a financial morass. Steps to introduce this will be taken as soon as possible after the full powers bill has become law.

The full powers bill which M. Caillaux will submit consists of two articles, the first conferring authority on the government to settle by decree all financial questions within defined limits and the second stipulating that such decrees be submitted to the chamber for ratification within six months after promulgation.

In view of the increased prestige gained by the French ministry through the success of the London debt negotiations, it is believed parliament will grant its demands, particularly because of the fact Belgium is finding itself forced to take a similar step.

SET NEW SPEED RECORD FOR GLOBE TROTTER

Mitchell Field, N. Y. (AP)—Edward S. Evans and Linton O. Wells, arrived by airplane at three P. M. daylight time, Wednesday and sped for New York by automobile to complete their trip around the world for a new "globe trotting" record.

The last lap of their trip was from Rantoul, Illinois, which they left at 3:55 A. M. Central standard time Wednesday. They left New York, June 16 at 1:30 A. M. hoping to travel around the earth in 22 days. They missed their mark by a number of hours, but smashed the 36 day record of John Henry Mears, made 13 years ago.

They're The Berries

There's an old saying used in well wishing—"May the skin of a gooseberry cover all your troubles."

So be it. But as far as Mrs. F. Tully, Route 5, is concerned, a Post-Crescent classified ad covers all her troubles.

Mrs. Tully had raised a quantity of strawberries and when it came time to sell them she used an A-B-C ad, and with complete success, for, 'ere the sun had set the day her ad appeared every berry was purchased.

A-B-C ads are the "berries" for selling all kinds of produce. Just call 543 and ask for an ad-taker and the Post-Crescent classified will carry your message.

EMPLOYER DENIES BLAME FOR LOSS OF MAN'S HAND

Cook in Restaurant Says He Suffered Infection While at Work

Six claims for compensation under the workmen's compensation act were heard Tuesday afternoon and Wednesday morning by Commissioner E. M. Wilcox of the Wisconsin Industrial Commission.

In the case of Gus E. Hare versus State Lunch, Inc., Hare alleged that he lost a hand as the result of infection and blood poisoning which was incurred while he was employed by the company as a cook in October, 1925. The State Lunch, Inc., refused to concede that the infection occurred while Hare was in its employ, but alleged that the infection was due to carelessness in connection with a boil on Hare's hand before he was employed by the company.

The hearing of Lena Conrad versus Hoosier Engineering Co. was held to determine the amount contributed by Clarence Conrad, who was elected April 6, 1926, while in the employ of the company, for the support of his mother, the claimant in the case. The company did not deny that the accident occurred while Conrad was in its employ.

HEAR DOCTORS

Testimony of physicians was taken in the case of Norman J. Vanderheyden versus the Riverside Fibre and Paper Co. to ascertain the extent of Vanderheyden's injury. The latter broke his right leg and suffered severe bruising about the neck when he was caught in machinery while he was cleaning a hich roll on Sept. 9, 1925.

In the case of R. Pogue versus A. C. Murtzbaugh, the injury was sustained, he testified, while he was carrying newspapers to the basement door in Murtzbaugh's place, and throwing them down the basement steps.

In the case of Floyd McGilgan versus Badger Printing Co., McGilgan testified that he had suffered a hernia while in the employ of the printing company, as the result of lifting heavy rolls of paper. He stated, however, that he could not determine the exact date of the injury. He testified that he suffered pains shortly after lifting the paper, but did not know until the following year, when he visited a Milwaukee physician, McGilgan asked for the costs of the operation.

In the case of Edwin Blank versus Blake Paving Construction Co., the hearing was held to determine the liability. The case is an old one, but after an award had been made by the commission, it was discovered that the Blake company was not insured in the company which was ordered to pay the indemnity. The claim for indemnity was allowed in an earlier hearing, when testimony was offered that Blank contracted tuberculosis when he fell from a bridge while he was employed by the construction company.

SPANISH FAVOR

RICH MEAT DISH

Paella Is Food Resembling
Chop Suey in Preparation

Madrid (AP)—What may be called the Spanish king of dishes appeals to all classes and is furnished on all festive occasions, such as wedding, birthday parties and dinners and lunches in honor of distinguished persons.

It is called "Paella," and even the king and his courtiers relish the succulent dish which is equally welcome in palace and cottage.

This regal repast is one which calls for careful preparation, but when it is ready for serving all agree that it is worth all the trouble taken.

Instructions for its preparation follow:

Place on the fire in a stewpan about a tenth of a quart of refined olive oil and a quarter of a pound of pork lard. When boiling gently, place in the liquid a medium-sized chicken divided into eight parts. As soon as the chicken is partly cooked, add a pound of loin of beef cut into small pieces, together with a large onion finely minced. After this has fried some time, two knobs of garlic well minced should be added with four peeled and minced tomatoes, also a pound of sea-squids or clams properly cleaned, a few prawns, some small sausages and pieces of eel, if liked. The whole should then be seasoned with salt, ground pepper and a little paprika, and when the dish has cooked to a point, boiled rice should be added according to the number of persons to partake and fried another four minutes. Then a small quantity of boiling water or stock must be poured over the whole and allowed to boil when a few boiled green peas, chopped artichokes and boiled split peas should be added. When all is ready, a mixture of saffron (if cared for) and parsley well mashed in a mortar with olive oil and stock should be thrown over it. Another fourteen minutes' cooking and it should be taken off the fire and on the top placed slices of previously baked and skinned red peppers. The dish should be allowed to stand five minutes before serving in order to permit the liquid to soak well into the rice.

The garlic may be omitted if objected to, but even with this left out the Spanish consider Paella one of the finest dishes of the culinary world.

Many new automobile roads to extend from Italy to the Ruhr district, Berlin and into Czechoslovakia, are being planned.

SHE NEVER GETS TIRED

This is the young woman who has been given the title of "the queen of endurance," and when you see her in performance in the flying rings you will understand why.

She is Miss Erma Ward, 24 years of age, very pretty, and one of the featured performers with the Sells-Floto circus coming to Appleton on Thursday.

Far above the heads of her audience she casts her body over her shoulder time after time until one may hear gasps of breath as she turns and turns on one arm. Thrills will creep up an down the spine as her watchers silently count to themselves each turn, and then as she reaches the ground, the wild burst of applause.

Miss Ward is one of two women who are doing this sort of circus work, but Erma is the only one who ever attained a record of 235 times at one performance. How she does it without dislocating her arm is her secret, but the fact remains that it borders on the marvelous.

Miss Ward also appears in the act given by the famous Flying Wards, known as America's premier circus act, in which nine persons are employed.

Between 125 and 250 automobiles pass the switchman's cabin at the St. Paul railroad tracks on S. Oneida street daily between 2 and 3 o'clock, according to John Graham, Hubert Junction, a conductor on the St. Paul railroad.

Mr. Graham's hobby is to spend that hour of leisure each day sitting on an old box outside the cabin counting the cars that pass, and cataloging emotions on the occupants' faces.

"I've seen practically every human emotion pictured in the faces of people who pass here in cars every day," he said. "It's a world of experience and helps you to read people's minds, this kind of work." He said he has seen sorrow, joy, happiness, anger, fear, and fright depicted in every degree possible.

"All types and races of people drive all types and makes of cars," said Mr. Graham. "I've seen poor, humble looking men and women riding in 'well glassed in cars' and I've seen rich and fine looking people riding cars that look as if they wouldn't go another mile."

The largest number of cars counted by "him" in one hour was 235 and the lowest was 127. Since the closing of the Cherry street bridge traffic through the flats has been much heavier, he has seen cars from every state in the union except California, Vermont, W. Virginia and Carolina.

"I've seen a California car and a Vermont car in other places but not here during my daily sojourn," he said.

Tourists from Illinois are most frequently seen and Michigan travelers are a close second. Indiana cars are third in number and following New York, Washington, Ohio, Iowa and other states are represented in a scattering procession.

"People in small cars usually look happier than those in the 'swell' cars," he said.

RAIL PASSENGER BUSINESS DROPS OFF 50 PER CENT

Can't Keep Going at Present Rate, Railroad Man Tells Rotarians

"Passenger business on the railroads has fallen off about 50 per cent since 1915," Ralph Kerr, Green Bay, said in a talk to the Rotary club at the weekly meeting Tuesday noon at Hotel Northern. Mr. Kerr is divisional freight agent of the Chicago and Northwestern Railway.

"It is not fair," he said, "to make up the losses of the passenger end of the business on freight, charges, but it is a thing which we must do in order to keep going."

He explained that people are not anxious to ride on the trains, but as soon as the road announces that it is to take off a train there is a flood of protest from many citizens.

Mr. Kerr said the Chicago and Northwestern has purchased several electric motor cars for experimenting and if they are practical will be used for short runs. Undoubtedly the railroads will have to enter into the motor truck business later to haul freight short distances at a lower cost, he said.

Most of the freight business of the company comes from the farmers in the northwest and when they have good crops, we have a good business and vice versa, he said.

Members of the club agreed to furnish cars to bring the boys back from the Y. M. C. A. camp at Onaway Island, Waupaca.

Car Thief Released
ON PAROLE FOR YEAR

Sentence of James Archequette, who pleaded guilty Wednesday morning in municipal court of stealing an automobile July 2 from the Vandenberg Auto Co. at Seymour, was suspended by Judge Theodore Berg. Archequette was paroled to Wenzel Zepnick, town of Onedia farmer, for one year. He was ordered to pay $25 monthly out of his wages to the Vandenberg Auto Co., until $130 is paid. This amount was set as the damage done to the automobile, a touring car, as the result of an accident shortly after the theft.

MRS. CHAMBERLIN IS IN SERIOUS CONDITION

Mrs. G. E. Chamberlin, 114 E. Pacific street, is in a serious condition at the Theda Clark hospital at Neenah following an accident Tuesday morning when the car in which she was riding with her daughter, Dean, was struck by a Chicago and Northwestern freight train at Neenah. Mrs. Chamberlin suffered a broken collar bone, two broken ribs and severe bruises about the body.

Miss Chamberlin, who suffered minor bruises and cuts about the face and neck, also was confined to the hospital. She complained of severe pains in her back and legs. Mrs. Chamberlin will be confined to the hospital for about three weeks and her daughter will be able to leave in about a week.

There were quite a number of suggestions to hang the umpire but Bill tried to be fair. When he saw the game was apt to get too one sided he would rule a man out on one strike or retire the side with only two out to give the losers a chance. It was necessary to send Charlie Emden and Chief Prim to the showers, however, for too much back talk.

Catlin proved to be the best horse shoe thrower of the many contestants slinging the irons and won the African golf title with little difficulty.

SHE WALKED HOME FROM AIRPLANE

At last it happened—a girl has had to walk home from an airplane ride! Emily de Voe, of San Francisco, went up with Harold L. Pelley and had to kick his ignition switch off to force him to land because he swore he'd carry her to Los Angeles and make her marry him. But after having him arrested she felt sorry for him—and here he two are, planning on the marriage that she says will occur shortly.

Hilarious Time Is Had By All At City Hall Picnic

Fred Bachman's hard hitting city hall baseball nine squeezed out a 3 to 2 win over a scrub team composed of guests of honor at the city officials' annual picnic at Alderman Mark Catlin's cottage at Lake Butte des Morts Tuesday. The game which went five innings or thereabout was the feature event of the party which was attended by city officers, aldermen and all others who were lucky enough to be asked.

Mark Catlin did the twirling for the city fathers and Bachman was the catcher on a few occasions. It was finally necessary to procure a pair of hip boots for Fred so that he could go sloshing into the swamp after the balls he missed off Mark's "special delivery." Charlie Hopfensperger did the twirling for the Guests of Honor aggregation and was supported behind the plate by John Behnke, who did what he could to another the "mean" curves which came his way. The G. O. H. pitcher almost won his own game on a spectacular slide home in which he tore up the sod and the south side of his trousers, but was ruled out by Umpire Bill Egert. Bill had been winning disapproval during most of the contest because of his "close" decisions and when he called Charlie out the game ended in a mob scene.

There were quite a number of suggestions to hang the umpire but Bill tried to be fair. When he saw the game was apt to get too one sided he would rule a man out on one strike or retire the side with only two out to give the losers a chance. It was necessary to send Charlie Emden and Chief Prim to the showers, however, for too much back talk.

LASKY PREDICTS SUPER AUTHOR IN MOVIE INDUSTRY

Says Time Will Produce a
Shakespeare for Hollywood

Hollywood, Calif. (AP)—The screen is ready for its Shakespeare and the film will have its "Bard of Hollywood" as surely as the stage produced its Bard of Avon.

This is the pronouncement of Jesse L. Lasky, motion picture producer. And while he does not forecast the arrival of the super-scenicist, this great thought, some finely wrought form of construction and story telling. He will open our eyes to new possibilities, to new dreams of the screen as a medium of art, and when he passes will leave a creative monument behind him that many generations will gaze upon.

"There is a tremendous need and I, for one, am sure that the super-author of pictures will rise in the not too distant future."

"The screen started from nothing 30 years ago and today has developed a marvelous medium of pictorial story telling. It is an artistic medium that has grown faster in its technical possibilities than it has in its literary and dramatic power."

"We have some trained writers who think in terms of the screen, who dream their dreams in terms of picture art. We have trained technical workers, but most of them have come to us from the world of letters or from the short-story or newspaper field. We need these workers, but we also need men and women who are thinking in terms of Olympus."

WILL USE OLD MATERIAL
We need some who will bring to the screen what Shakespeare brought to the drama of his time. He salvaged dramatic construction and gave it form. He pulled the drama out of its rut of tradition and its heritage of being a religious spectacle.

"We do not expect someone to come along with startling new plots, novel situations, or brilliant photographic effects. Shakespeare, as a matter of fact, worked with age-old material. Many of his plots were stories," Lasky said. "He will bring time-worn, and had been used by many other writers in many countries. But it was what Shakespeare saw in them and what he saw in the stage as a medium of expression that made him great."

The world-wide popularity of hand-made Chinese rugs has become so great that now large and efficient factories are turning out the floor coverings.

Teeth, eyes, skin, hair, nails and—women are now recognizing a "sixth" personal responsibility

No well groomed woman would think of neglecting her teeth, eyes, skin, hair and nails. Yet, she often neglects her feet, thereby robbing herself of a graceful poise, bringing wrinkles to her face, and making it almost impossible for her to enjoy things as she should.

Active, vigorous, comfortable feet are the right of every woman. They are indispensable if she wishes to get the most out of life. And the woman of today is securing them by wearing the Arch Preserver Shoe. This shoe doesn't let the foot arch sag and become strained. It doesn't pinch the nerves, bones and blood-vessels of the forepart of the foot. Yet it is smart in appearance.

It's the shoe you will wear when you get acquainted with it.

IMPROVEMENT OF PIERCE PARK IS UP TO CITIZENS

Future of Park Depends Upon Attitude of Voters Regarding Bond Issue

Voters of Appleton will decide next Tuesday whether Pierce park is to remain a 40-acre tract of woodland, or whether it is to become one of the beauty spots of Appleton and Wisconsin. If their vote approves of a $50,000 bond issue they will decide upon the latter if it fails to approve, the tract will remain as it is for the time being.

Tentative plans and blueprints, which will not be changed materially if the bond issue is approved, have already been drawn for the park that is to grow out of what is now a pleasant woodland. They include provisions for many sports and for quiet recreation, and they dip into the future far enough to assure facilities for the next four or five decades.

Something like a mile of gravel or fine cinder road will wind its way through the park. To avoid all possibility of congestion this road will be just a fraction of a foot less than 100 feet in width, and traffic will travel in only one direction.

AMPLE PARKING SPACE

Even if the much talked-of point of saturation in automobiles is reached within the next few years, it is believed that there will be ample parking space in Pierce park if the plans are adopted as they now stand. The road is wide enough to permit parking along one side and yet leave plenty of room for passing automobiles—several abreast if necessary. This alone will take care of several hundred cars. A parking place near the east central part of the park, adjoining the road, will make provision for 400 or 500 additional automobiles. It is estimated, while a much larger parking place will be provided in the northern portion of the park.

Particular attention was given to the question of automobile traffic and parking, as this provides one of the most serious problems of a modern park. In most other municipal parks it is pointed out, there is not sufficient parking space to take care of all the automobiles.

Near the center of the park, according to the blueprints, a municipal building will be erected. This will house the proposed dance pavilion, or music or band stand, and a comfort station. It may also be used for other activities, even as a municipal auditorium in time of need. The cost of the building will depend largely upon the requirements of the Wisconsin Industrial commission.

If the industrial commission approves a wood building it is estimated that the cost of the structure may be as low as $20,000, although it would probably be somewhat higher. If other material is required it is thought that the price will be in the neighborhood of $30,000. This variation would not affect the amount of the bond issue, as the extra cost will be paid from other funds, if necessary. The park board, however, is working on an estimated cost of $30,000 for the building.

TWO STORY STRUCTURE

Tentative plans provide for a building 125 feet long by 75 feet wide. The building, it is planned, is to be a two-story structure. The dance hall would be on the second floor.

West of the main entrance to the park, at the southwest corner of W. Prospect and S. Pierce-aves., will be two playgrounds, for boys and girls, respectively. These will be separated by three tennis courts which will front on W. Prospect-ave. South of the courts, occupying an equal space, will be a general play area which will be equipped with playground apparatus.

Croquet, basketball and volleyball courts will be provided in the central eastern portion of the park, according to the blueprint plans, thus assuring a wide variety of sports to Appleton citizens.

South of the proposed municipal building two baseball diamonds will be laid out, including a boys' or "junior" diamond, and a "senior" diamond for adults. The latter will provide a good diamond for games between various clubs or associations of Appleton, etc.

AID WAR VETS TO GET CITIZENSHIP

Danielson Explains Law Enacted to Help Veterans of World War

George N. Danielson of St. Paul, United States naturalization commissioner, is spending a two weeks' vacation in Appleton, his former home. He declared Tuesday he will be glad to be of assistance of any aliens of Outagamie-co who served in the United States armies during the world war and who desire to become citizens.

"Congress recently passed a law which provides for the naturalization of aliens who served in the United States armies during the world war," Mr. Danielson stated. "There was such a law in effect from the time of the beginning of the war until one year after the return of the troops from overseas. It has now been enacted and provides that such veterans may be naturalized without the payment of the usual $4 fee. Those who have honorable discharges, or discharges from physical disability, come within its terms. No first paper or certificate of landing is required to be filed with the petition for citizenship."

The petition must be filed with the clerk of the circuit when the examiner is present. Any alien veteran of the world war may communicate with the examiner and he will be notified when he can file his petition for citizenship.

WILL BUILD LAGOONS

The ravine through the west central portion of the park will be utilized to provide a number of splendid lagoons, according to the plans. Near these, toward the east, there will be an additional comfort station. The region about the ravine will provide an ideal ground for a zoo, in case that one should be started ultimately by a benevolent citizen or group of citizens and donated to Appleton; or in the event that money is available later for the establishment of a zoo as a civic enterprise.

Practically every wild flower which will thrive in this region will be at home in Pierce park. Several hundred varieties are included in the plans. There will be flower-beds in profusion along the roadsides and in designed spots throughout the entire park.

If all plans are carried out as they now are made, Pierce park will rank high among the most charming pleasure and scenic spots in Wisconsin.

POTATO ACREAGE SHOWS INCREASE

Tobacco Acreage Is 10 Per Cent Smaller Than It Was Last Year

Madison—(P)—Potato acreage in Wisconsin is 10 per cent larger than last year Paul O. Nyhus, federal-state agricultural statistician, reported this week. The tobacco acreage is 10 per cent smaller and the acreage in canning peas has been reduced 9 per cent.

The increase in potato acreage is general in all Wisconsin counties, but greatest in the commercial producing areas, the report stated. The acreage in the United States is only two per cent larger than last year. The change in Wisconsin is considered moderate in view of the high prices for the product the past season which may have influenced a greater increase. Except in eastern counties, the crop is in thrifty condition. The condition of the United States crop on July 1 was 5 points below average. The early prospect for farm prices is accordingly favorable, Mr. Nyhus reported.

"Wisconsin tobacco growers have made another cut of ten per cent in acreage," he reported, "bringing the 1926 plantings down to 20,000 acres. From plantings that five years ago stayed quite constantly at 48,000 acres, the new 1926 plantings mark a drastic cut. During these five years many have given up raising tobacco. The 1926 reduction comes in spite of excellent yields and relatively good prices for last year's crop. Difficulty of getting dependable help and high labor costs are factors in the acreage reduction. Frequent showers have made good stands of this year's plantings and the new crop appears promising.

"For the first time in five years the acreage of canning peas in Wisconsin shows a reduction from the previous year. The industry and poor markets had been feared, but, not generally experienced until last year. A nine percent reduction in acreage is the adjustment to low prices and slow future contracts for this year's pack. The pack of Alaska's which is being completed now indicates very good yields and quality in the Columbia area of the state, fair to good yields in Western Wisconsin, but somewhat poor yields in the Lake shore counties. The present prospect for sweets is uniformly good.

"The estimate of cabbage in Wisconsin is 3 per cent more than last year. Soup peas have been planted in a group of counties around Manitowish. The acreage of sugar beets in eastern Wisconsin remains the same as last year, and there is a reduction of twenty per cent in the acreage of beans in central Wisconsin."

THEATRE TO SPONSOR HARMONICA CONTEST

Fischer's Appleton theatre is to sponsor a harmonica contest for boys in Appleton and vicinity under the age of 16. The entrants will be divided into groups according to the wards in which they live and two groups will appear each Wednesday for four consecutive weeks. The first two groups will perform Wednesday night. Neenah and Menasha will be considered as one group and other out-of-town entrants will make up another group.

Two boys will be chosen each week to appear in the final contest. Three prizes will be awarded to each group of contestants every week and a grand prize will be given at the end of the contest. The Hoerner Harmonica Co. has contributed three special harmonicas for the three final prize-winners. Other prizes have been donated by the Meyer-Seeger Music Co. and by the Irving Zuehlke music store.

LABOR LIFE INSURANCE

Another one of those constructive steps for which the American Federation of Labor is establishing a reputation was taken recently in the formation of the Union Labor Life Insurance company. It is labor's latest business enterprise. This company has been chartered under the laws of the state of Maryland with a capital structure of $300,000 and with the purpose only of selling its stock to trade unions and trade unionists affiliated with the American Federation of Labor or which are not antagonistic in character to the federation itself. It is the purpose of the company to carry all forms of individual and group insurance. In the language of Matthew Woll, one of the vice-presidents of the American Federation of Labor and who is acting as president of the new insurance company, "the fundamental principle is that policies shall be profit-sharing, so that the insured will get every saving made after the shareholders are paid 6% on their stock and surplus."

The value of this step may be more far-reaching than the eye can see. On the surface it would seem to present a two-fold advantage. It introduces and thus further interests labor in the field of business with which labor is by no means unfamiliar, though further familiarity will be valuable. It has the tendency to make life insurance more popular and to help get it in still larger measure spread over the country and where, too, perhaps it is needed most—on the life of the bread winner whose death or incapacity always presents a family tragedy.

Life insurance is a dependable, well-managed company, — and we have no doubt the Union Labor company will be all of that,—has become almost a necessity of life. There are few business concerns but that protect themselves against the loss of capable managers by life insurance. The death of any working individual is not only an injury to the business by which he is employed, but is an economic loss to his family difficult to repair.

When the American Federation of Labor was younger it encouraged a few business enterprises without the necessary thought, study and consideration, and it failed. In recent years its record is far different. It has put into responsible positions in its organization men of brains who are capable of thinking and acting and who have been largely instrumental in putting its business enterprises onto a high plane. This was very clearly evidenced by the organization of working people's banks in the large cities where their success has been pronounced. The business judgment employed is just as worthy of approval for declining to foster the opening of such banks in smaller communities where with less support failure might be their reward.

Under the insurance plan the labor unionist in taking a policy will have the satisfaction of forwarding one of the ambitions of the federation and at the same time undoubtedly securing his money's worth.

GET OUT OF THE SHIPPING BUSINESS

At last, through gradual pressure by the president, the United States Shipping Board is about to make a move that will take the government definitely out of the ocean passenger service and it will be a move, indorsed we believe, by the entire country.

The proposal calls for the solicitation of bids for 19 ships, including tonnage valued at $27,000,000, with a view to selling them to private parties for use in competitive operation. It is time something of the kind was done. Certainly the shipping question has been handled throughout in an unwise manner. It has been shifted this way and that way, until at last we are in the same position as we were in the beginning, operating a private business, supposedly for the purpose of profit, but really under a heavy loss.

It all simmers down to a very simple question and that is—are we going to subsidize a merchant marine or are we, as far as the government is concerned, going to drop out of the shipping business and allow it to shift for itself? We are sure majority opinion is against subsidy. Consequently there is but one thing left to do, and that is to dispose of the boats. Of course they will not bring what they are worth, but there will be no more carrying charges for a white elephant. The net result will be good if the ships can be sold to parties who will devote thought and ship sense to their use. They can be operated much more successfully by private companies than they are operated by the government. There is no real business enterprise in anything the government does. It has no place in the competitive field.

While we think it was a mistake for the government to attempt to operate a merchant marine longer than was absolutely necessary following the war emergency, the present would seem to be the most favorable time of disposing of the ships since their sale became clearly recommended. European travel is heavier today than ever before, and is increasing rapidly. Undoubtedly there will be a marked expansion of tonnage within a few years. The vessels operated by the shipping board are not carrying capacity much of the time, while other ships are sold out. In the hands of a private company, their patronage can be developed. Of course they should not be sold to foreign interests and only to bonafide operators. Neither should they be given away. If they cannot be sold to fair advantage the government can afford to hold off for a reasonable time for a larger price. In the end it will get it if the transaction is handled in the proper manner.

PROTECTING A GOOD NAME

Under a law recently passed by congress and approved by the president, the use of the words "Federal", "United States", or "reserve," or a combination of these words in the name of any banking, brokerage, insurance and similar business, except Federal Reserve banks and members of the Federal Farm Loan system, has been made illegal. This legislation has been urged for years to prohibit misuse of these titles.

The good name or reputation of a bank is one of its most valuable possessions, but it should create its own reputation and not borrow a trust and confidence already established by the supposed governmental participation in all projects associated with "federal", "United States", and "reserve."

WHAT'S A PAIR OF TONSILS BETWEEN FRIENDS?

A Chicago professor of roentgenology, discussing the X-ray treatment of tonsil disease, made the interesting remark before a national medical society gathering: "The cases we see occur in members of physicians' families. They prefer to operate in their own cases; but when their children have hypertrophied tonsils they bring them to us and we have shown a very satisfactory percentage of improvement."

That doesn't mean as much as it may seem to at first blush. I should discount the assertion about fifteen per cent because the professor is himself a radiologist—a physician who limits his practice to the use of X-ray. Then I think I'd have to deduct about 25 per cent because the professor is interested in before a special group of physicians interested in that particular field of practice. Finally I believe I should allow another 25 or 30 per cent for the fact that physicians are notorious for their bad judgment when it comes to treating themselves or members of their own family.

Unquestionably many tonsil operations are unnecessary. This is inevitable for two reasons. First, because too many nose and throat specialists are born specialists and haven't enough general practical experience to know whether such an operation is really advisable. In the second place, people are silly about tonsils. They think they can afford the luxury, and if they think the specialist is willing to operate blind, some of 'em slaughter tonsils by the score and with no concern at all whether the operation is required. The patient has been sent to the clinic—that's enough for the born nose and throat specialist.

After a general survey of the technic employed by the frenzied nose and throat specialist in the removal of tonsils and adenoids, I believe I'd prefer to have mine hacked off by some plain general practitioner in whose judgment I have confidence.

A serious objection to the X-ray treatment of enlarged or infected (diseased) tonsils is the great expense. It costs considerably more than surgical removal of the tonsils, as a rule.

The radiologist I have just quoted maintains that the tonsils have a function in the adolescent period, serving, when normal, to protect against bacterial infections. It is true that some of the cells in the tonsils are phagocytes, that is, they ingest and destroy germs; some of these phagocytic cells are discharged from the crypts or openings in the tonsil surface and become salivary corpuscles. When the tonsil has been badly damaged by infection or disease, however, it can serve no useful function and is only a menace to health.

The X-ray is especially advisable in the common condition of simple enlargement (hypertrophy) of the tonsils, with or without associated adenoid hypertrophy, in children.

When there is evidence of pus retained in the tonsil the only effective treatment is surgical removal of the damaged organ.

In any case, X-ray treatment, of course given by a physician, is absolutely safe.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Much Like Humpty-Dumpty

Two weeks ago I wrote you several questions and in your answer you calmly ignored the first question. I repeat it and will look for an immediate answer. Question: Does the hair ever become replaced when it has fallen out? (E. D.)

Answer—That's a question I hesitate to answer. Last time I gave a specific reply to it. I was unlucky enough to do so on the very day a big new hair restoring nostrum was launched, and I smarted off for my pains. When the hair falls out, as a rule, it is rarely replaced, at least so you can notice it. Of course the hair is falling all the time, and new hair growing, until one gets past the growing season. But I assume you mean beginning baldness.

Bill Eggert's wife asked him to buy her a string of graduated pearls and Bill is still trying to find out what college he can buy them at.

Dear Rollo,

I hear a lot of Germans are coming to Appleton this week to have sauerbraten and I also have heard rumors that there is gonna be a lot less than one half of one per cent to drink. Now I now a guy wants a prohibition officer and he sez he's gonna be peekin around a bit. Better tell those guys they should wish their steps.

They sez the prices of rye breed and cheese is gonna go up 'til us ordinary peoples can't buy it. Well any ways, Iberger do not arress with my stomach and I don't like ryes bread.

LITTLE WILLIE.

My laundry tis of thee,
Spoiler of clothes for me,
Of thee I rave.

My clothes you always tear,
All those you cannot wear,
It's more than I can bear,

Of thee I rave.
My buttons you remove;
My wrath you cannot soothe.

Nor do you try.
My happy days you mar;
Your sins so countless are

That when you cross the bar,
Long may you tarry.

BETTER JAMS AND JELLIES

At Lower Cost

The modern, short-bell method of making jams and jellies with Certo delights women everywhere because it is so simple, so sure, so practical and so improves the color and flavor of their jams and jellies.
With Certo your fruit jells perfectly every time, with only one or two minutes' boiling. This saves the bright color and deliciously luscious flavor of your fresh fruit and gives you a larger amount of jam or jelly from your fruit because you save all the juice which used to boil away.

Women who have figured the cost both ways find their cost per glass two or three cents less when they use Certo.
Certo is a pure fruit product—the jellifying substance of fruit refined and bottled. A book of simple, tested recipes comes with each bottle. Your grocer carries Certo, or you can send 10c (for postage) and get a trial half-size bottle which will make from 6 to 10 glasses of jam or jelly, depending upon the recipe used. Address: Douglas-Pectin Corporation, 9554 Granite Building, Rochester, N. Y.

A Baby in the Home

NO KING on his golden throne demands and receives more homage from his willing subjects than a baby in the home. The smallest member of the family requires a great deal of attention. Sometimes, in caring for her child, a mother overtaxes her own strength. Particularly when there are other children to work for, she must learn to preserve her health. Then her home becomes a place of order and happiness. She finds time to play with her children and the whole family enjoys the dimpled baby as he grows from day to day. Many young mothers have learned that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound helps them to find the strength they need.

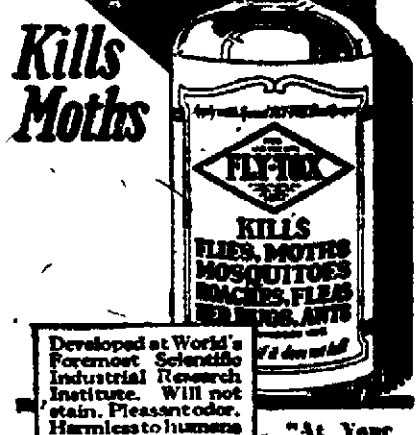

Before her marriage, Mrs. R. N. FRANKUM, of 3947 Gold St., Omaha, Nebr., was a working girl. Like many girls, she sometimes had to stay at home from her work. A friend told her of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and she found that it relieved her trouble.

She was in good health until her second baby came. "I began to take the Vegetable Compound again," she writes, "and was soon able to do my housework. Now I can say I never felt better in my life. Women ask me what I have been doing and I tell them about your medicine. I feel that I owe a lot to it."

KAUKAUNA SHOWS PRACTICE SHOOT
GAIN OF $1,078Growth of Postal Business
Keeps Pace With Growth
of City

Kaukauna—A gain of $1,078 in business over the previous year was reported by the Kaukauna postoffice at the close of the fiscal year on June 30.

Postmaster A. R. Mills says it is a natural gain based on the growth of the city. The postoffice has just about broken even in its report for the first six months in 1926 compared with the first six months in 1925. Mr. Mills expects a gain in business the second six months to offset this disadvantage.

Considerable money order business is done by the local office. During the past fiscal year 19,480 domestic money orders were issued here. There are 51 international orders amounting to $502.31. Fees on the domestic orders amounted to $1,611.05 while the fees on the foreign going orders amounted to $7.20. Two thousand and thirty letters were registered here and 5,294 parcels were insured during the year.

Mail left at the Kaukauna office at noon, designated as air mail, reaches Chicago in time for the night air mail delivery to New York and is delivered early in New York the following morning. The fee for air mail service is 8 cents per zone where mail planes are operated by the government and 10 cents per zone where the planes are under contract. Most of the local air plane business is done through Chicago. The country is divided into three zones for the air mail service. From New York to Chicago is one zone, from Chicago to Cheyenne, Wyo., is another and from Cheyenne to San Francisco is the third. The fee for a letter sent to San Francisco from here by air mail is 16 cents.

IN TWILIGHT LEAGUE

Kaukauna—The fast traveling Electrics won a double-header in the Twilight Soft Ball league Tuesday evening and slipped into a tie for second place with the Clerks and Thilmans. The Electrics won their last five games in the league. The first game of the double-header was won by the Electrics in the first game which the Electrics won 9 to 7 after a desperate fight.

The lineup: Electrics—Brooks, Engerson, Mertes, Ives, Evans, Wagnitz, Weckworth, E. Johnson, Zwick and Kenney.

Mulford's—Toungberg, Robidoux, Engsteld, Webster, Haas, Michel, Evers, Weisenbach and Crowe.

The second game between the Electrics and the Volleyballers went 8 to 11 decision. Like the first it was close throughout and both teams had to be up and at them all the time. The final innings of the game were played in nearly complete darkness. Hugo Weisenbach of the Volleyballers was easily the star of the game when he hit safely every time in four trips to the plate. The lineup:

Electrics—E. Johnson, Brooks, McMorro, Mertes, Ives, Evans, Wagnitz, Weckworth, E. Johnson, Zwick and Kenney.

Volleyballers—Engsteld, Krahn, H. Olin, Hulem, Worthman, Ryan, Bohm, Gerhart, Weisenbach and Brenzel.

Team standings:

URGE CARE FOR PARK
SPACE NEAR RAIL DEPOT

Kaukauna—Agitation is being started to have the plot of ground at the corner of Main-ave and Second-st, near the Chicago and Northwest-ern passenger depot, fixed up and made respectable looking. This year in particular the plot of ground has been badly neglected. It is said. Grass and weeds have been permitted to grow. Officials of the Chicago and Northwestern Railway say that it is up to the city to fix up the park and that it has been brought before the park commission.

The location is ideal for a park and it is said it would take very little money to keep the grass cut. It has been suggested that a fountain be installed in the center of the park.

WINS BY DEFAULT

Kaukauna—Harvey Dix won two sets of tennis, 6-0 and 6-0, in the Kaukauna Tennis club singles tournament by default from Byron Busch when the latter failed to appear on the courts. The girls division will play Thursday afternoon.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank our many relatives, friends, neighbors, employees of the C. & N. W. Railway, our pastor, The Rev. Paul T. Ochelt and wife, and all who extended to us the kind hand of sympathy, for the manifold expressions of kindness lavished upon us in our recent bereavement of a faithful and beloved wife and mother. Wm. F. Redman, Harold Redman, Violet Redman, adv.

TWO BRIDES TO
PRETTY PARTIES

New London—New London society is much interested just now in the series of charming entertainments which have honored Miss Lorraine Knapstein and Miss Melda Pelzer.

Miss Knapstein will be married on Saturday, July 17, to Walter Randell, son of Mrs. J. Randall of Chicago and Miss Pelzer will marry Otto Krueger, of Wausau, later in the season. Miss Pelzer has for some time been librarian at the city library. Miss Knapstein is well known in New London and Appleton. She has been connected with the Vocational school at Appleton for the last three years.

On Monday evening they were honored guests at a dinner given by Mrs. Leo Reel, Mrs. D. C. Zillmer and Mrs. R. L. Fitzgerald. The event was at the home of Mrs. Reel, Spring-st. Dinner was followed by bridge. Four tables were in play and honors were won by Mrs. Giles Putnam and Miss Knapstein.

A pretty note was introduced in the tiny course favors which were placed at each plate. Gifts of various sorts were presented to the girls.

A charming afternoon of bridge followed by tastefully appointed dinner was given on Tuesday afternoon by Mrs. Robert Gardner, of Racine. Miss George Polan and Miss Lorena Oestreich, at the latter's home for Miss Pelzer and Miss Knapstein. Five tables were in play and the honors went to Mrs. Giles Putnam and Miss Ismae Stiefer. Gifts of linen were showered upon the two prospective brides. Out of town guests included Mrs. Harold Koerner of Appleton, Miss Irene Harris and Miss Ismae Stiefer of Milwaukee.

Miss Pelzer and Miss Knapstein with a group of their friends will be entertained at bridge on Wednesday evening. Mrs. Milton A. Ullrich will be hostess at her home on Dorset.

The Modern Way of Keeping Securities

The ownership and supervision of securities involve both risk and considerable detail labor.

By depositing securities with us in safe-keeping, you are relieved from all trouble and care while at the same time you retain complete control of them. The fee is very moderate.

Your securities are always available to you without your being present. You may direct their sale or transfer their ownership as readily as you may transfer a sum of money by check.

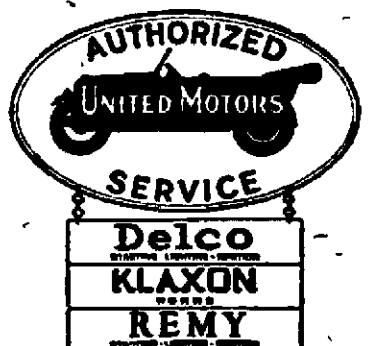

We will, at your request, attend to such sale or purchase of securities as you may direct, or credit your account, endeavoring also to keep you advised if any of your bonds are "called" prior to maturity and if you are entitled to subscribe to new issues of stock or to convert bonds into stock.

At your request, we will, from time to time, make an examination of your investments and recommend to you such changes as seem advisable.

STAGE AND SCREEN

DISCOVERS THAT

SHARKS ARE SHY
Sharks have no movie ambitions. They're afraid of the cameras. This curious phase of shark psychology was discovered by Maurice Tourneur, director and member of the company which went to Porto Rico with Gilda Gray to film her in "Aloma of the South Seas" for Paramount.

The story calls for a lagoon full of sharks, through which Nuttane paddles a canoe and disposes of his enemies. The lagoon was found without trouble. It was bordered on three sides by waving palms and separated from the ocean by a reef of coral rock. But there were no sharks in it.

CATCHING SHARKS

While the canoeing scenes were being made, Tourneur commissioned a number of natives to catch several sharks and drag them into the lagoon. For two days the natives caught the fish on hooks and towed them toward the reef. The instant the men tried to get the huge fish out of the water, they started a riot, leaping eight and ten feet, overturning canoes, and at times dashing themselves on the rocks.

The supporting cast includes Percy Marmont, Warner Barton, Jeanne Johnston, who was Douglas Fairbanks' leading lady in "The Thief of Bagdad," William Farnell and others. Also a stage show by Vincent Carr and his Gang.

"RUSTLING FOR CUPID"

Anita Stewart is to be seen at the New Bijou three days starting Thursday. She is cast as Sybil Hamilton in "Rustling for Cupid," Fox's latest production to reach the screen. George O'Brien has the masculine lead as Brad Blatchford, in this Peter B. Kyne drama of ranch life.

Miss Stewart and O'Brien give the picture a good laugh at the start but they are just across the aisle in a Pullman bound for Scamora Creek, New Mexico, where she is to teach school, and near which O'Brien's father owns the famous Swastika Ranch.

The porter exchanges their grips and starts the romance, which runs through a lot of heart throbs vicissitudes to an "all's well that ends well" finish.

Others in the cast are Russell Simpson, Herbert Prior, Edith York, Sid Jordan and Frank McGlynn, Jr.

PLAYS VAGABOND ARTIST

Conrad Nagel, who is the favorite male actor of so many screen fans, will be seen in his best film role in Josef von Sternberg's "The Exquisite Sinner," the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer production showing at the Elite theatre Thursday and Friday.

Nagel long ago won recognition as one of the most finished actors on

MANY REFORMS IN GOVERNMENT ARE SUGGESTED

Legislative Interim Committee Gets Widely Divergent Proposals

Madison — (AP) — Numerous and widely divergent are the suggestions for governmental reforms, offered to the legislative interim committee on administration and taxation, a summary compiled by E. F. Witte, chief of the legislative reference library, reveals.

The interim committee will meet in Madison on July 20, 21 and 22, when it will discuss the procedure to be followed in reaching its conclusions and recommendations for the next session of the legislature.

One of the outstanding proposals before the committee is the establishment of a state department of economy and efficiency, in which the civil service commission and board of public affairs would be combined. This is one of a score of suggestions for the consolidation of state departments.

The hearings conducted by the committee brought out a wide variety of proposals for changes in the administration of state affairs, the tabulation shows. Different interests had their own scheme of state affairs which they recommended for adoption in the committee's report.

There were some seventeen suggestions for discontinuance of different state activities. From one person came a proposal that the prohibition department be abolished, while another recommended that the state discontinued the teachers' pension system.

Reduction of state employees by eliminating certain activities was advocated from different sources.

There was only slight sentiment for salary reductions, however. While a few persons suggested reductions in the salaries of state employees, the majority declared they should be increased rather than be reduced.

Eleven answers were received to the question of which appropriations to the university, normal schools and other educational institutions should be repealed or reduced. One suggested that unappropriated receipts of the university (tuition) should be returned to the university as a revolving fund for operation, maintenance and bond purchases.

There were no suggestions for repeal or reduction of appropriations for charitable and penal institutions. Instead it was recommended to the committee that more probation officers be provided for, and additional accommodations furnished to meet the overcrowded conditions in most of the institutions. It was also suggested that the woman's prison be moved to Taycheedah, where the industrial home for women is situated.

Among other appropriations which the committee was told, should be reduced are those for highways. It was also suggested that the old state penitentiary and aid to county fairs be eliminated.

Larger appropriations were recommended from different sources for conservation and forestry, for eradication of bovine tuberculosis, and for nine different state departments. The committee also has a list of thirteen suggestions for new activities which the state government should undertake.

Approximately thirty other measures through which greater economy of increased efficiency can be brought about in the state government, the committee was advised, include elimination of duplication in its section work, transfer of certain activities from one department to another, a budget system, the erection of a new office building to house all of the state activities that are crowded out of the capitol, and the provision that all heads of departments hold office during good behavior, but without having the power to determine policies.

The interim committee faces the job of fighting the various ideas presented to it—some of them old, and some new—and incorporating in its recommendations to the legislature, those that are regarded favorably. The ideas were obtained to answer a questionnaire submitted by representative organizations and persons and in public hearings.

ANNOUNCE EXAMS FOR CIVIL SERVICE JOBS

Examinations under the United States Civil Service commission will be conducted at designated places to fill vacancies in 14 departments, according to H. J. Frank, secretary of the United States Civil Service board in Appleton. The positions to be filled, their salaries, and the final dates in which applications must be filed at Washington, D. C., are:

Senior accountant and auditor, $3,300; accountant and auditor, $3,000; associate accountant and auditor, $2,700; assistant accountant and auditor, $2,400; principal accounting and auditing assistant, $2,100. Applicants for these positions must be qualified in common carrier accounting. Final date for filing applications at Washington is Sept. 30.

Associate crop and livestock estimator $3,000; assistant crop and livestock estimator, $2,400; final date for both is Aug. 3; assistant forester in utilization department, $2,400; Aug. 10; associate ordnance engineer, $3,000; Aug. 10; junior engineer and deck officer in the United States coast and geodetic survey department, final date, Aug. 31; associate poultry husbandman, $3,000, Aug. 3; trained psychiatric nurse for Panama Canal service, Aug. 7; pharmacist, $2,100, Aug. 7.

BRITISH SUFFER FROM PROLONGED MINERS STRIKE

Shortage of Coal Causes
Other Industries to Lay Off
Many Employees

BY MILTON BRONNER
London—What 4,000,000 workers in a general strike all over the land could not accomplish, 1,000,000 coal miners are bringing about—a paralysis of British industry.

Just as the human body starves for want of food, so British industry is starving for want of coal. The pulse-beats of British industry are slowing down, factories are closing or working on short time and thousands are being laid off.

COAL AT HOME CUT

Every man, woman and child in Great Britain is affected by the continuous strike of the miners far more than they were when the miners had 2,000,000 other workers at their side. This because each day of the strike makes a dent in the nation's available coal supply. In a general strike, thousands of volunteers carried on essential services. But no young bloods and no serious minded men have gone to dig coal.

Politically as well as socially and industrially, the general strike has left a dire "hangover." Premier Stanley Baldwin emerged from the general strike with unprecedented popularity. The coal strike, however, has been cutting into his strength. His government is denounced daily by laborites in Commons.

In his private life, John Citizen finds himself affected by the coal strike in these ways:

He can only procure a hundred weight of coal every fortnight for his household uses. Fortunately this is the summer time.

If he has gas fires, he is confronted by very low pressure.

When he walks down town he finds the main centers dark, because illuminated signs have been debarred. The underground railway trains are packed to suffocation because fewer trains are run.

If he is a suburbanite, he has to hustle for a seat because the railways are running a 50 per cent service.

ALL DOCKS IDLE

It is in the industrial centers that the main effects are felt. Here is a tabloid picture.

Cardiff:—the main business of this great Welsh seaport is the export of coal. The docks are idle. Hundreds of men are out of jobs and daily reports come of customers buying from Germany, France and Belgium.

Swansea:—This Welsh manufacturing town has over 23,000 new unemployed. Most of the great tinplate and steel mills have been closed.

Birmingham:—The big forges are at a standstill. The rolling mills are working on part time.

Newcastle and similar seacoast towns, headquarters of the fishing industry:—business dying down because the trawlers can't obtain fuel. Every trawler idle throws nine men out of work.

Turn to Oil

Nottingham:—famous for textiles, is working part time.

Bradford:—famous for woollens, part time.

Sheffield:—one of the hardest hit of all the big industrial towns. Because of its proximity to miners, industry here has never had storage yards. Thirty big melting furnaces have shut down.

Northampton:—capital of the boot and shoe business, part time.

For the coal industry one of the tangents of the situation is that the railways and some of the manufacturers are taking up seriously the question of oil fuel. Experiments are being made. Many manufacturers are looking enviously at Bristol where, after the last strike, some factories became oil burners.

NOT ENOUGH TEETH

"I've found a really wonderful dentist," a Scotsman told his friend.

"Every time he extracts a tooth he gives his patient a drink."

"Then what are you so gloomy about? Did he run out of whisky?"

"No, I ran out of teeth."—North ern Daily Telegraph.

Some physicians advocate a diet of stinging nettles as a treatment for sugar diabetes.

Physician Surprised

"Hearing of some good results from the use of MAYER'S I decided to try it on a chronic case of indigestion and gastritis I was interested in. After the first dose the patient was relieved of gas trouble and was soon able to eat radishes and many things he had not eaten in years." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract, and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. All druggists.

NAME COMMITTEE TO STUDY WAY TO IMPROVE HIGHWAY

Cottagers Don't Want to Raise Money for Paving Lake Road

A committee of five Appleton men was selected to meet with the Winnebago road and bridge committee on Tuesday, July 20, to talk over improvements of the Waverly beach road, at a meeting of citizens who have cottages along the north shore at the chamber of commerce Tuesday morning. The committee consists of Joseph Plank, chairman, T. E. Orblison, H. G. Getchow, Charles Rosland and C. A. Pardee. The first three men named constitute the chamber of commerce road and bridge committee.

Members of the Winnebago-road committee intimated the county might consider paving the one and one tenth miles on highway 18 south of Appleton's city limits if a portion of the cost is paid by local citizens. It was pointed out that Winnebago residents don't need the highway and that it is used almost exclusively by people of this city.

Cottagers, however, expressed themselves as opposed to spending any money from their own pockets to aid Winnebago in the permanent improvement of the highway. They claim they already have spent about $2,500 for upkeep of the road and feel that if the county paved the stretch it would be cheaper for all concerned in the long run, as a great amount of money has to be expended from time to time in improvements which are only temporary.

Winnebago has the maintenance of the stretch for one and one tenth miles south of the Appleton city limits and Calumet-co keeps up the remainder of the road south to the junction with highway 114.

APPLETON ELK BAND IS WELL RECEIVED

Competing with 34 other bands and drum corps, Appleton's Elk band, recently organized under the direction of Edward F. Mumm, was received with rounds of applause by the crowd attending the band contest at the national Elk convention at Chicago Tuesday afternoon. The local band and that from the "Colo." appeared to have won the most favor from the audience, according to reports received here. The winner of the contest was held at Soldiers' field before approximately 10,000 persons.

Dedication of the $2,000,000 Elk Memorial Headquarters building was the feature of Wednesday's program. Charles Grakelov of Philadelphia was elected grand exalted ruler, and Cincinnati was selected for the convention city in 1927.

WISCONSIN WEATHER

Unsettled tonight and Thursday, followed by local showers or thunderstorms; slightly warmer tonight; cooler Thursday in northeast portion.

WEATHER CONDITIONS

The high pressure area which was centered over the Dakotas yesterday is moving southward and is centered over Kansas this morning. The temperatures are below normal in the southern half of the country from the Rocky mountains eastward, and in the northern half from Minnesota eastward. The northwestern "low" has moved slightly southward, and unsettled weather continues in that section. As the "low" continues eastward it will cause showers and thunderstorms in this section tonight and Thursday. Temperatures will rise somewhat tonight.

Precipitation has fallen on the Atlantic Coast and from the Gulf coast to Kentucky. Light showers have fallen in Montana and North Dakota.

Two Ex-Presidents Died the Same Day.

One hundred years ago, July 4th, 1826, two great men, signers of the Declaration of Independence passed away.

Do you know who they were? The facts of their lives, and of all the Presidents, and official portraits of each, are contained in the forty page booklet "Presidents of the United States," prepared by the Washington Information Bureau of this newspaper. Available now for six cents, postpaid.

HE WANTS HIS MOTHER TO STAY

George Washington Stoma, aged 19 months, wants his mother to stay in America with him. Mrs. Stoma has been the center of a deportation battle for five years, and will soon know whether she must go back to her native land of Syria. If she is sent back, the child will be allowed to stay with Joseph Stoma, the husband and father. The family lives in New Orleans, where a judge will soon render a decision on a writ to prevent the woman's deportation.

Insurgents Soon Will Rule Over Republicans

BY CHARLES F. STEWART
Washington—Republican insurgency—described by the socialist Congressman Berger as "the elephant's tail"—has reached such proportions in the last week or so that one of two things appears likely to happen:
1—Either the tail will shortly be wagging the elephant, or else
2—It is quite among the possibilities that the tail will detach itself from the elephant and undertake to be a party on its own account.
To appreciate how formidable the elephant's tail—insurgency—has become, it is first necessary to consider the question:
What is a political insurgent?
The answer seems to be that he is a member of a political party who is out of harmony with its leadership to some extent.
Now President Coolidge, by virtue of his office, at least theoretically is the Republican leader at the present time. Any Republican who bolts one of his essential policies becomes an insurgent automatically.
No Coolidge policy is more absolutely an essential one than his policy toward agriculture. It is to this policy that the recent startling spread of Republican insurgency is due.

Just how extensive it is throughout the country remains to be seen. Even as to the House of Representatives there may be a little uncertainty; the lower house is so unwieldy.
But the Senate is easy to size up. If "the Senator" is an index, the elephant and his tail are near the parting of the ways.
Senators La Follette, Frazier, Norris and Nye have been Republican insurgents all along. Though a nuisance to the party organization, they were numerically too weak to be very dangerous.
On the farm proposition it was to have been expected that Senator McNary would be an insurgent, inasmuch as he was author of one of the bills which flies straight in the face of everything the administration considers agriculture entitled to.

Senators Capper, Howell, Johnson, McMaster and Norck have been occasional insurgents, so perhaps it is not surprising that they are completely off the reservation over the question of farm relief.
But Senators Cameron, Cummins, Deneen, Gooding, Harrell, Jones of Washington, Means, Oddie, Pine, Robinson of Indiana, Schall and Stanford? These were "regulars." They are insurgents as to farm relief.
And Senator Watson, who was a recognized "white House advisor" and frequently its spokesman in the Senate? He won his primary campaign in Indiana on an insurgent platform—as to farm relief and other things, too.

Most significant of all, Senator Curtis voted against the administration on the farm relief bill. Curtis is Republican farm leader in the upper house of Congress. His defection must have given President Coolidge a jolt.
In fact, the president would have been definitely turned down in the Senate on the farm issue, but for the Democratic votes of Senators Bayard, Bruce, Dill, Edwards, Gerry, King, Reed of Missouri, and Walsh, and for the votes also of Senators Borah and Couzens who often are Republican insurgents but who happened not to like that bill.

That makes 26 Republican Senate votes—counting Borah and Couzens as insurgents whenever they choose to be—that President Coolidge cannot control.
Insurgency on such a scale as this becomes more than mere insurgency. It hints at a party split.

COURT FORBIDS FATHER TO VISIT CHILDREN

An order restraining George Simpson from visiting his children was issued Monday afternoon in circuit court by Judge Edgar W. Verner. In the divorce decree granted Anna Simpson, her former husband, George Simpson, was given the right to visit his children. Mrs. Simpson complained he incited the children to disobedience during his frequent visits to the farm, and that he quarreled with her on numerous occasions while he was visiting the children.

RELATIVES FAIL TO REACH INJURED KIN

No further information regarding Louis Lautenschlager, 20, formerly of Appleton, who was hurt in an accident on the Kilbourne road, Milwaukee, Sunday, has been received by relatives of the young man here. Miss Lucille Birkemeyer, 20, Kaukauna, with Lautenschlager at the time of the accident, also was injured.

Appleton Man Finds Home Memento 6,000 Miles Away

When E. H. Textor, a former resident of Appleton and a graduate of Appleton high school picked up a cover to a cardboard matchbook from an ash tray in a hotel in far away Sao Paulo, Brazil, June 14 and found the name Matt Schmidt and Son, Appleton, Wis. printed on it, he got quite a "kick" out of the experience and became convinced of the truth of the old saying that the old world is rather small after all.
Mr. Textor immediately wrote Mr. Schmidt a letter, enclosing the matchbook cover and saying he would watch the hotel register very closely for the name of the fellow Appletonian in far distant South America. He told Mr. Schmidt that one would think the fame of the local clothing concern would spread farther than the Fox River valley or the borders of the state, but nevertheless the name, at least, had travelled 6,500 miles from home.

Since writing the letter, Mr. Textor met his fellow townsman, and erstwhile owner of the match book. He is Roland N. Miller, who is making his headquarters in Sao Paulo while supervising the construction of a Brazilian paper plant.
Mr. Textor is a plant engineer for the Brazilian Telephone Co. in Sao Paulo, Brazil.

Mrs. Bert Van Roy returned Wednesday to her home in Omaha, Neb., after visiting at the home of her mother, Mrs. M. Ashman. Miss Le-one Recker returned with her and will spend a two weeks vacation at Omaha.

FOUR BANDS IN SINGERS PARADE HERE ON SUNDAY

Kiel Will Bring Musical Organization to Saengerfest

Kiel Maennerchor will bring a band to participate in the Sunday afternoon parade which is to be a part of the 1926 Saengerfest here Friday, Saturday and Sunday. It was announced at the general committee meeting Tuesday evening at Hotel Egart.

Besides the Kiel band, the Marine band of Manitowoc, the 120th Field Artillery band of Appleton and the Eagle's Fife and Drum corps of this city will take part in the parade. Appleton police and the city officials also will march.

The special platform in Lawrence Memorial chapel for the 700 singers in the concert Saturday evening was finished Wednesday and a final rehearsal of the local Maennerchor will be held Thursday evening in the chapel.

Nearly all of the organizations which will be represented in the mass choir will arrive in the city Friday to attend the festcommere at the Eagles hall. The commere is held in connection with each Saengerfest as a "get-together" party where the singers become acquainted. Each organization presents an impromptu act, a lunch is served and dancing completes the program. The public is invited to attend this commere.

NEW "Y" SECRETARY EXPECTED ON FRIDAY

R. M. Eickmeyer, new office secretary of the Y. M. C. A., will arrive in the city Friday evening, according to a telegram received by George F. Werner, general secretary, Wednesday. He will take over his new duties the following day.

Y. M. C. A. officials are either on their vacations at present or will take them within the next month. Arthur P. Jensen, director of physical education, is absent on his vacation now. John W. Fugh, boys secretary, will return from Onaway Island camp Thursday and will start on his vacation Friday. He will be absent for two weeks. Glenn Opperman, who has been acting office secretary during the summer will leave for Chicago next week for a two weeks vacation. On his return he will serve as assistant office secretary for the remainder of the summer. C. L. Boynton and George F. Werner will take their vacations in August.

MORE BUILDERS NEEDED, EVANS TELLS KIWANIS

Ripon College President Is
Speaker at Joint Picnic of
Twin City Clubs

Menasha—The joint picnic given by the Menasha and Neenah Kiwanis clubs at Menasha park Tuesday evening was well attended. The program opened between 5 and 6 o'clock with baseball game between the two clubs which resulted in a victory for Neenah, 16 to 11. Four innings were played and Dr. H. A. Briggs of Neenah was umpire. Supper was served in the pavilion.

Dr. Silas Evans, president of Ripon college was speaker and gave a talk on constructive building. He said what is needed in this country today is more people with constructive broad thinking minds. Instead of those who are continually knocking and saying it can't be done.

All it requires, he said, to beat down the most modern building today is a bar and a hammer, but it requires a great many tools and experience to replace it. He said there are several important things in life and among them he named home, religion and education.

The world is too full of critics and has too few constructive sound thinkers and builders, he declared.

WOODENWARE TEAM WINS FROM ASMUTH SQUAD

Menasha—Menasha Wooden Ware company team of the Industrial Baseball league won from the McGillan-Asmuth company team, 5 to 3, at Recreation park Tuesday evening. The game was featured by home runs by Mitchell and Dahms of the Wooden Ware team. The batteries were Mayefski and Scheferling for the Wooden Wares and M. Kosloski and Kuroski for the McGillan-Asmuth.

Saturday afternoon the Menasha Wooden Ware team will play Jesuit Knitting company team and McGillan-Asmuth company team will play John Strange Paper company team.

EQUIP TUG CARTER FOR NIGHT SERVICE ON LAKE

Menasha—The tug H. W. Carter of Oshkosh which is now using oil for fuel and which made its first trip of the season down Fox river early this week passed through Menasha Tuesday on its way to Oshkosh, where it will be equipped with a search light for night service in hauling coal. Night hauling was resumed Tuesday for the first time in several weeks.

ARREST APPLETON MAN ON GIRL'S COMPLAINT

Menasha—Paul Koehnke of Appleton was before Justice Herman Luckenbach on a statutory charge preferred by a Menasha girl. He was bound over to municipal court at Oshkosh and his bond was fixed at $500 which he furnished.

WORKMAN HURTS ARM "CRANKING" TRUCK

Menasha—Joseph Sprang, 33 Main-st., an employee of Menasha Boiler Works, injured his arm Tuesday while cranking a motortruck. An X-ray picture was to be taken of his arm Wednesday to determine whether any bones were fractured.

MAKE RAPID PROGRESS ON NEW MENASHA CHURCH

Menasha—F. J. Oberweiser, who was awarded the contract for remodeling the Congregational church and building an addition to it, is making rapid progress. The floor have been up and will be replaced with concrete with magnesite surface. The brick veneer is being removed and will be replaced with surfaced mottled brick. Excavation for the boiler room is about completed.

BOAT DAMAGES TIMBERS IN MENASHA HARBOR

Menasha—The heavy timbers and plank protecting the stone wall at the government dock at the corner of Racine and Main-sts and which also protects the boat lying up at the dock, were badly damaged by one of the boats of the Cook & Brown company of Oshkosh. The timbers were given a glancing blow, carrying them and the piles that support them several inches out of their former position. The damage was inspected Tuesday by city officials and a representative of the Oshkosh company and arrangements made for repairs.

ARREST MENASHA MAN ON SPEEDING CHARGE

Menasha—A. F. Strange of Menasha was among the persons arrested by Winnebago-co motorcycle officers Tuesday. He was overtaken by an officer on Waukau rd and was charged with traveling at the rate of 50 miles an hour.

BOYS HIKE ACROSS STATE TO ORCHARDS

Menasha—Tom Southernland and Roland Stech, two boy scouts of Fairmont, Minn., and John Burnquist of Minneapolis, who was in charge hiked through Menasha shortly before noon on their way to Sturgeon Bay. The two scouts were taken to Minneapolis by their father and the hike started from there Monday morning. They accept all invitations to ride and were of the opinion they walked less than 100 miles in reaching Menasha. The boys have relatives at Sturgeon Bay and expect to secure employment picking cherries as soon as they reach there. They inquired the way to Appleton.

MENASHA PERSONALS

Menasha—Mr. and Mrs. W. I. Masten, and guests, Mr. and Mrs. Van Tylor of Battle Creek, returned Monday from a two days automobile trip to the Wisconsin Dells. Miss Adeline Welfmuth was returned from Luxembourg, where she spent her vacation with relatives. The condition of William Sanai, who submitted to a critical operation at Theda Clark hospital Monday, is slightly improved. Sam Resch of the postal service is confined to his home by illness. His place is being filled by George Schipferling. W. L. Wheeler has gone to Chicago to attend the national convention of Elks.

Mrs. O. W. Thiele of Ridgewood, N. J., is spending the summer with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Bemis, Broad-st.

SOCIAL ITEMS AT MENASHA

Menasha—A group of friends surprised Mrs. Joseph Walker Monday evening at her home on First-st. in honor of her birthday anniversary. Cards were played and the prizes were won by William Porath, Henry Vanderhyden, Mr. and Mrs. Philip Michalkiewicz, Roy Walker and Mrs. Anton Omachinski.

The Sanctuary society of St. Patrick church will hold its annual picnic Thursday afternoon at St. Patrick church. The committee in charge consists of Mr. and Mrs. William Holmes and Mrs. Charles Hank.

Members of Menasha and Neenah Kiwanis clubs will be guests of honor at a picnic and supper to be given next Wednesday evening at Menasha park by Appleton Kiwanis club. The visiting club also will put on the program which will include several speakers.

WOMAN BREAKS BONE LEAVING HOSPITAL

Menasha—Mrs. Walter Borscha of Menasha is at Theda Clark hospital with a fractured collar bone received in a fall Tuesday evening at the hospital. Mrs. Borscha had spent the evening with a relative who is ill at the hospital and it was while she was leaving that she slipped on the steps and fell to the cement pavement.

CHRISTOPH RETURNS FROM CONFERENCE

Menasha—George Christoph, in charge of Neenah playgrounds, who attended a conference of community recreation workers in Madison last week, returned Tuesday. Mr. Christoph was sent to Madison by the local branch of the Red Cross, which is sponsoring playground work in Neenah this season. Activities at all playgrounds and bathhouse which have been abandoned during Mr. Christoph's absence, will be resumed Thursday morning at the usual hours.

Boys and girls who intend to make the swim in the Kiwanis diving tower located 500 feet off shore from the municipal bath house will be required to pass a test to be given by Mr. Christoph before attempting the feat. It is the intention of those in charge to move the tower closer to shore to enable the average swimmer to reach it.

FARMERS WILL HOLD PICNIC IN RIVERSIDE PARK

Elaborate Program Arranged
by Two Farmer Organizations

Neenah—Arrangements are being made for a joint picnic to be held on Aug. 26 at Riverside park. Neenah, by Neenah Shipping association and the Neenah branch of the Wisconsin Cheese Producers' federation. It will be a farmers' picnic, as almost every farmer in the surrounding country is interested in or a stockholder in one of the two associations. Farmers of the Fox river valley are invited to attend.

The program of games and short talks by well known speakers will start at 11 o'clock in the morning and continue until 3:30 in the afternoon. At 11 o'clock games and stunts for the young people will take place. From 12 o'clock to 1:30 a picnic lunch will be served; at 1:30 a hog calling contest will take place, to be followed by an address by Mayor J. H. Denhardt.

At 2:30 prizes will be awarded to the federation patron having the most milk in December and April, to the shipping association member who sold the most stock from Aug. 1, 1925, to Aug. 1, 1926 and another to the best looking married couple.

At 3 o'clock a pillow race will be staged by the ladies, followed by a tug-of-war and other contests for women. A bicycle race will complete the program. Aband has been engaged.

COMMISSION STUDIES IMPROVEMENT PLANS

Neenah—Improvement of that portion of the city lying west of the slough between Winnebago-ave and Main-st was discussed by the planning commission Tuesday evening. Plans of the proposed platting were submitted to the commission by a realty company which will have the work in hand. Before completing the plans, the proposed state highway which will connect highway 15 at the Winnebago-ave intersection to the river road to Appleton to be known as highway 151, and passing through this new plat, will have to be approved by the state highway commission.

NEENAH SOCIETY

Neenah—The third of the series of outdoor dancing parties by Neenah Aerie of Eagles, will be held Friday evening at Riverside park pavilion. Music will be furnished by Twin City Melody boys.

BERGSTROM PAPER CO. STARTS NEW WAREHOUSE

Neenah—Excavation has been started by Bergstrom Paper company for a warehouse to be erected on its property on Main-st just west of its present property. The new building will be built of red brick and cement and will be five stories high.

Cal And Others In Capitol Sensitive About Photos

Washington—Washington's big men are mostly very sensitive about their pictures.

Every body knows that women are pretty particular how their photographs look, but who'd suppose that a great he-man, high enough up in public life to be in the Senate of the cabinet or even the White House, would fret like a chorus girl, while being mugged, about lights and shadows, just the right expression on his map, his pose and his clothes?

Well, nearly all of the do. They honestly believe classy pictures of themselves in the newspapers make votes for them and that they lose votes if the picture makes them appear homely.

They may be right, for all I know. President Coolidge is one of the fussy ones.

He's very accommodating with photographers but he has his own ideas. He quite frankly knows that he doesn't photograph well and wants the best breaks he can get. He's been "fussy" so much that he's learned a lot about it too, and frequently makes suggestions that professional photographers can't afford to ignore.

Mrs. Coolidge on the other hand, photographs exceptionally well. No doubt she also is aware of the fact. At any rate, she worries hardly when picture-taking's going on, but leaves it to the cameramen.

Photographers all like Vice President Dawes. From his "hell 'n' Maria" reputation one might conjecture that he'd be ferocious with 'em. On the contrary he's most obliging. Perhaps it's because he's one of the kind who generally "take" well. (It isn't always beauty that makes a good photograph).

Speaker Longworth is hardened. He'll pose at any time; he knows how from long experience, and as to results, he takes his chances.

The camera folk speak of Mrs. Longworth as "temperamental". Sometimes she's all smiles and affability. Sometimes she's very hard to get along with. Sometimes any pictures suits her. Sometimes it's almost impossible to satisfy her.

Paulina, hasn't reached an age where she cares aught.

It's a funny sight to see a high-powered public man moistening his lips to make 'em look rosy and shaking the sags and wrinkles out of his drapery, preliminary to having his photo shot.

It's funnier, after the fact, to watch him admiring the result, if he likes it or to listen to his lament, if otherwise.

I had one of 'em, a few days ago, tell me it was "dishonorable" to reproduce his picture without painting out his facial lines and crowfeet, "so he wouldn't look like Methuselah."

The collision occurred when the DePere youths attempted to pass a truck which was going north, the same direction in which they were driving. As they turned toward the middle of the highway, their car crashed into the one driven by Mr. Rasey, which was headed south. The boys said they failed to see either the truck, which they said had no lights, or Mr. Rasey's car. It was raining at the time of the accident.

Joseph Koffend Jr., and Mrs. Rasey who were occupants of the Rasey car were slightly cut and bruised.

BELGIAN DISH REQUIRES WINE

Carbennade Flamandes, Flemish Stew and Choeseels Are Favorite Foods

Brussels, (AP)—The Belgians as a rule believe in living well. Eating and drinking is just as much appreciated today as it was in Breughels days, and the famous Flemish masters paintings, Kermesses flamandes, still are typical scenes of modern rural life in Belgium.

Two dishes, Carbennade Flamande or Flemish Stew, and "Choeseels" are served regularly in all Belgian homes. The recipe for Carbennade Flamande follows:

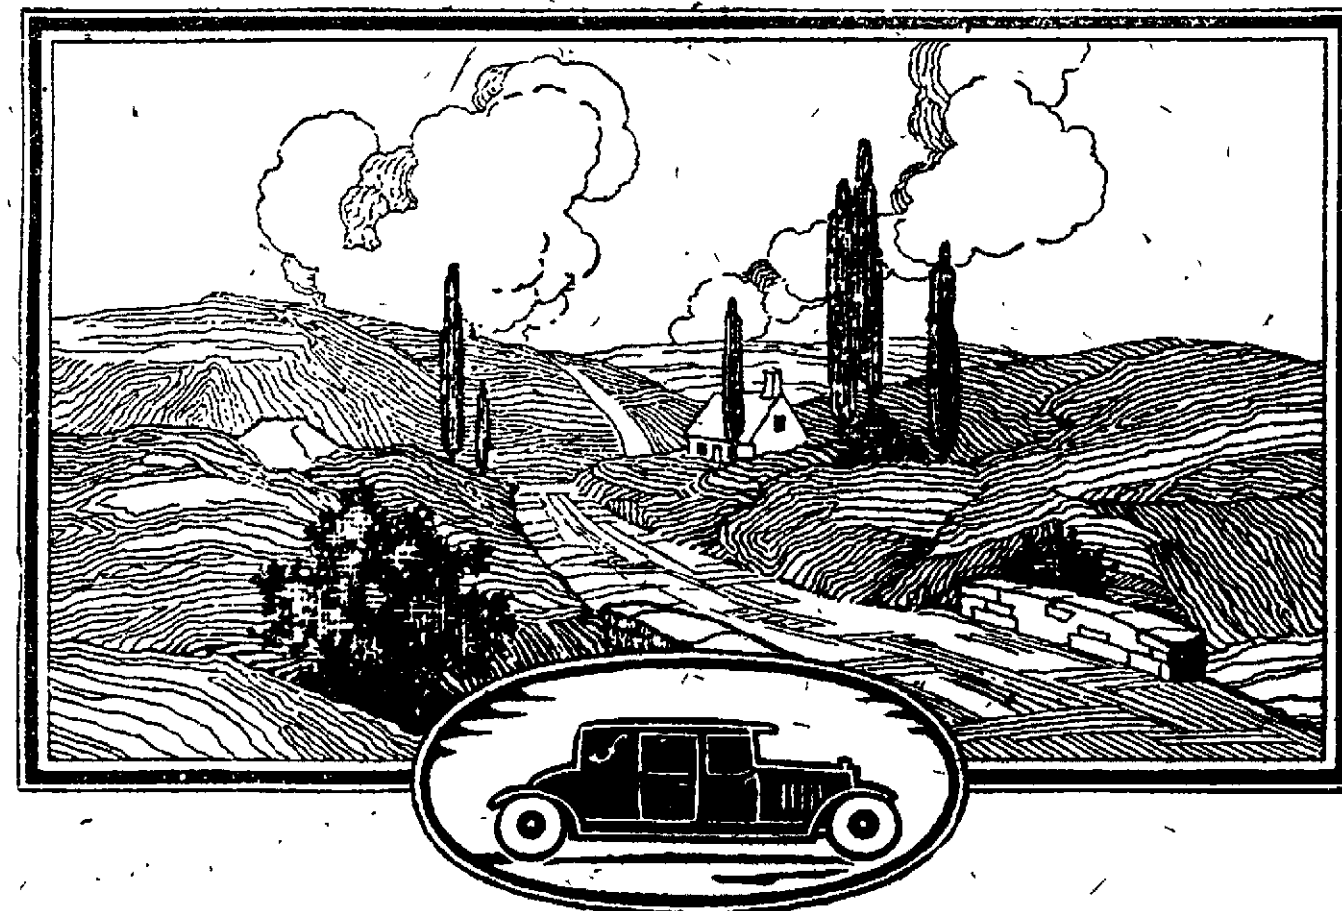

Fry half a pound of beef (almost any part is convenient) in butter, together with a half a pound of onions. When sufficiently browned, add a sauce prepared with flour and two thirds of a pint of sweet beer or wine, or half this amount of vinegar if beer or wine are not available. The whole to be stewed about two hours. To obtain the "genuine savour" of this stew, the sauce has to be prepared with the Brussels beer called "Faro" a rather sweetish beer, under produce of "Lambic" which itself again is the second brewing of the famous Brussels Burgandy called "Gueuze".

As to "Choeseels" the recipe is a more complicated one, refined dish. For eight persons take four sheep's feet and one ox-tail, the feet cut into two, the ox-tail in smaller parts. Mince and shape into small balls. One pound of pork and one pound of veal and stew for two hours in a rather liquid sauce prepared with tomatoes, "fume" and a glass of Madeira wine or "some" fine Champagne liquor.

NEIGHBORS' WIVES

ERNEST LYNN, author of THE YELLOW STUB

BEGIN HERE TODAY
JOHN and FAY MILBURN buy a home when their baby girl is born and the advertising agency in which John is partner and copy writer lands a new contract. Among their acquaintances are—

NOEL and VERA BOYD, whose marriage is strictly "modern."

PAT and MARIAN FORBES, who have three children and whose domestic life is unhappy because of Pat's roving tendencies. Previous chapter told how:

John was fascinated on meeting NELL ORME, of whom Pat Forbes hints that she is having trouble with her husband.

When Fay took JUDITH, the baby to Chicago, to visit her parents, John "ran around" a good deal, mostly with Pat Forbes.

When Fay returned, gossip had related some of his doings, and sharp quarrels between him and Fay followed, one of which drove him "out on a tear." Fay, learning he had been out again with other women, threatened to leave him if it was repeated.

John promises away to people are talking about him, and NAT GRAHAM, his partner, blames the loss of a client on the "damaged reputation" he charges John was bringing the firm.

Vera-Boyd invites him to tea and overcomes his objections by holding out a "surprise" for him. It is a real surprise, for there he finds Nell Orme. He resolves not to go again, as he is aware of Vera's propensity for pronouncing "affairs." Nevertheless, he does, and this time he madly takes Nell in his arms, and Marian Forbes comes in on them.

Fay learns of it and announces her intention of leaving him. He tries to dissuade her, then finally insults her, and she smacks him.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY
(The names and situations in this story are fictitious.)

CHAPTER XLIV
The blow left a glowing red print on his face. It had taken him by surprise, and he had involuntarily recoiled, but after the shock of it he stood looking at her, wordlessly, his eyes smoldering. A long time he stood that way, and there was nothing said between them. Then he calmly turned on his heel, grabbed his hat and walked out of the house.

Once outside, and away from Fay, self-pity took hold of him. "What right, he reflected, had Fay to assume that, just because he had met Nell Orme a couple of times, he was slow-witted? Hang it all, were all men alike in thinking the worst of their husbands? And Marian Forbes—who had had a lot to do, to go running to Fay with a report of what she had seen in Vera Boyd's house. Of course, he was classified by Marian, no doubt, in the same category with Pat—a well-a rounder.

If people only would keep their mouths shut and tend to their own business. He reflected that nearly all the quarrels he and Fay had had—certainly all their serious ones—had been the result of some busy-body's tattling something about him to Fay.

"My God!" he burst forth bitterly. "Why doesn't she give me an even break? Why does she always think the worst of me? The worst I've ever done since getting married is to take a few drinks and kiss a few women. Of course, she doesn't approve of it, and I can't expect her to—but by the Lord Harry I'm no drunkard, and I'm no—no adulterer. But Fay thinks I'm both. It would serve her right if I did leave her."

And then he was suddenly reminded of what Fay had said about leaving him. But he shook his head at the thought of it, although a sudden pang of feeling had gripped his heart. Surely, she couldn't mean it. She had spoken in the heat of anger. She was hurt, mad—and she was trying to wound him in return. Well, he thought, he'd walk around until her anger, and his own, had had time to cool. To think that she had struck him! He could feel the blow, could see the cold fury in her eyes as plainly as if the scene were being re-enacted. Peculiar to do something sometime about beraking up partnership with Graham and taking on someone a little more congenial. Buy Nat out—that was it. Of course, he didn't have the money now, but he could raise it if he had a little time. That was it, break with Nat Graham and start all over again with a clean slate, and cut out all his foolishness—these doggone flirtations that didn't get anywhere.

He wondered how Fay would take it when he told her that he had decided to break up his partnership with Nat Graham. Fay didn't like him; maybe she'd see that with Graham out of their lives they could start all over again without any handicaps. But how had Graham handicapped them? Fay would be sure to ask. Oh, in lots of ways! When conditions at the office were disagreeable they made other conditions equally as bad. A man ought to be perfectly happy in his work if he wanted to be happy in his home life. That was it, by golly! How could Fay expect him to be a hum-dred per cent when things down at the office lately were so disagreeable?

No, Fay couldn't have been serious when she said she was leaving—even though she had hit him. But hold on, now, she might have been serious at that. Fay was never one to put up an empty bluff, and she had promised sometime ago to leave him if he did anything more to hurt her. Oh, well, no use to walk the streets all night thinking about it. Might as well go home, and Fay most likely would be ready to patch it up. She ought to be feeling pretty mean about now on account of that slap in the face.

The little house, when he went up the front walk, was bathed in austere moonlight, and something about its appearance—the cold, silvery sheen of its white paint—chilled him. A light was burning in the front bedroom—his and Fay's room. He could see a shadowy figure moving slowly about. Hesitantly he opened the front door and went in.

Fay had time to regret, striking John, but there burned within her a resoluteness of purpose and a fortitude that had dwelt in the hardy breasts of her Puritan ancestors. She had declared herself, and she was going to go through with it.

"She cried a little with remorse for having slapped him, and she cried a good deal more when she had put Judith to sleep and then gone upstairs, and started packing her trunk. . . . There in the bottom of the trunk was her wedding dress, and the beautiful white satin petticoat and underthings that had been worn only once. And here in a tray was their marriage certificate. Everywhere it seemed, were reminders that she and John belonged to each other and she was leaving him. The thought was almost more than she could bear, but she continued with her task, although her eyes were streaming tears.

She did not hear the front door open downstairs, but she heard John's footfalls ascending the stairs, and suddenly he was framed in the doorway.

"Fay," he said gently, and she looked up, steeling her heart against the softness that seemed to be flooding her. This big boy . . .

"Yes?" she said coldly. "What are you doing?"

"What do you suppose? I'm packing." She got up from her position in front of the trunk and moved over to the vanity dresser, where she started exploring the drawers and piling their contents on the floor.

"You—you're not serious, Fay?" She made no answer, and John said, "You don't mean you're really going through with it—that you're actually leaving? Fay, be serious. It's too—too dreadful, this thing you're contemplating."

The chilliness of frost in her words were false to her true feelings. "Yes, I'm going through with it. I gave you warning once, but you paid no attention. I'm leaving now—leaving you to your good times and your petticoats."

He winced. "Fay, don't say that!"

"Very well, I won't say anything. Just don't interfere."

"But I will interfere. I've been a—good husband, even if you do think horrible things of me."

"I won't argue the point."

"But I want to argue it. Do you think I've been unfaithful to you?" She made no answer, but her silence seemed to damn him.

"Fay, I want you to answer me. Do you really think I'm—I'm low or are you doing this for spite? I want to know." He strode, in his agitation, back and forth across the room. He saw that Fay, who was standing with her back toward him, still had no idea of answering him, so he went over to her and placing his hand on her shoulder, turned her around.

"Do you hear me?" he asked. Fay put her hands on her hips and raised her head defiantly. "You've kicked me around long enough, John. You've had your chance, but you don't play fair."

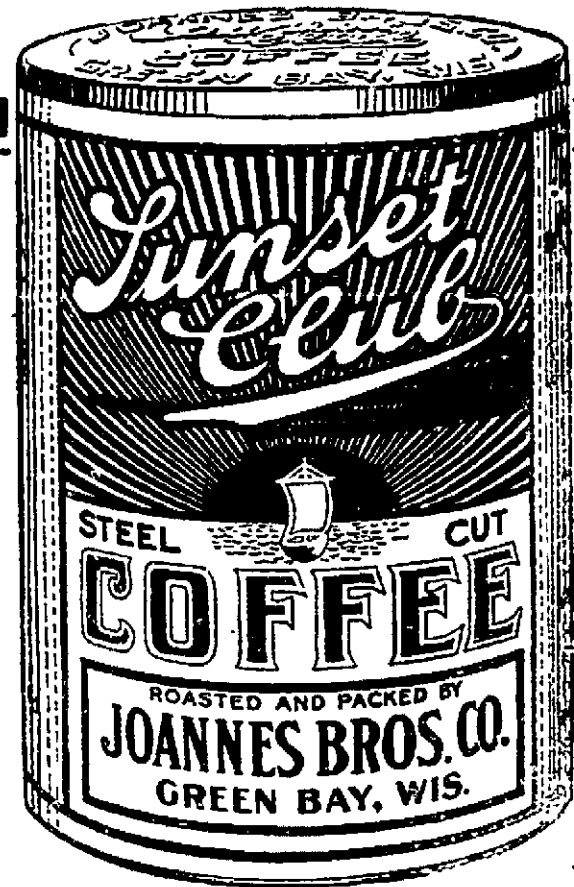

"So you do think—"

"And I'm going to get a divorce," she interrupted.

The words came as something of a shock. It was the first time that anything had been said about divorce.

"Very well, then." He folded his arms and stood staring straight into her eyes. "It would be better if we were divorced, if you think those things of me. I'm through pleading with you. Go right ahead." And he stamped defiantly out of the room. (To Be Continued)

Success of Safety Measures

Vehicles of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) crossed 36,840,000 railroad crossings during 1925, and traveled nearly two billion miles with but one fatal railroad crossing accident.

These statistics tell part of the story of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) safety campaign. They reveal the astonishingly successful results of this Company's persistent effort to reduce motor accidents.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) has formulated Safety Rules requiring the exercise of extreme care and caution at all times. But the Safety Rules alone are not responsible for its extraordinary success in eliminating accidents.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) believes that the success of its safety campaign is due to the attitude of its drivers toward their work. The educational program of the safety department has been designed to develop and strengthen that attitude.

Standard Oil Company (Indiana) drivers, in common with all other Standard Oil Company (Indiana) employees, realize that courtesy and thoughtfulness of others are the very foundations of Standard Oil Company (Indiana) service.

Careful driving becomes, then, merely an extension of the ordinary courtesy and thoughtfulness that are practiced every day in all the various activities of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana).

Drivers of Company trucks take pride in their traffic ability. They appreciate the responsibility of their jobs, the importance of foresight and caution.

Taking a chance at a railroad crossing, or any other reckless act, is regarded as evidence of incompetence and disloyalty.

An accident caused by carelessness implies a breach of trust on the part of the driver.

An employee of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is proud of the trust confided in him, anxious at all times, and in every way, to justify it.

A Standard Oil Company (Indiana) driver realizes that unusual trust is placed in him—that the lives of others are in his hands. He considers no effort too great to justify that trust—and no excuse valid for its violation.

This attitude of Standard Oil Company (Indiana) drivers toward their work has made the enforcement of the strict Safety Rules of the Company a simple matter.

It is this attitude that has made possible the record of 36,840,000 railroad crossings in 1925 with but one fatal accident.

This record is just another proof of the genuine and sincere desire of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) to serve the people of the Middle West.

A STORY OF
A GIRL OF TODAY

ANOTHER CASE
"What's the matter, Rillie?" I exclaimed. "You look as though you had been ill a month!"

"Oh, do I look as bad as that?"
she asked, her voice trembling. "I really wanted to look my best today.
You see, it's the first time I've been out of the house since that awful story came out in the papers about Lyman and me."

"I wasn't intoxicated, Judy. Honest I wasn't. And I didn't know for certain that Lyman was drunk until he ran into that tree while trying to kiss me."

"Well, Rillie, why did Lyman Andrews not take the blame for it all?"
Why didn't he say that only he had been drinking?"

"I don't know. I haven't seen him since the story came out. But the gossip is getting so scandalous that I don't think Dad can stand it much longer. He said he was going over to have a talk with Lyman today and I came out to find him before Dad could get to him. If my father had only let me call Lyman up the next day, I think I could have made it all up with him. Now, oh, Judy,
I'm afraid Lyman will never speak to me again."

"Do you want him to, Rillie?" I asked in surprise. "I could not understand how any girl could want to have anything more to do with any man who had shown such a yellow streak as Lyman had."

"Of course I do, Judy. Don't you see, I've got to make up with him?
Don't you know that although I did nothing more than you or any other of the girls have done, yet I got into a mess by the accident and now the story has grown so big that I'm ruined if I don't marry Lyman? And, oh Judy, he hasn't asked me! You know I'm awfully fond of him and I couldn't live in this town if I thought he was making love to any other girl!"

She stopped suddenly. A man's voice had called, "Rillie! Oh, Rillie."
I looked behind me to see that it was Lyman Andrews.

"There!" I said. "There's your man and you won't be the clever girl I think you if you don't make him come to terms immediately if you want to. I'll leave you now to do your stuff. I haven't much time to lose, Rillie, for I am getting ready to go to Chicago."

"Are you?" she asked in a tone of voice by which I knew she would rather go to Chicago than marry the man that was slowly coming toward her. I only stopped long enough to hear him say:

"Your Dad seems to think we ought to get married, Rillie."

"And don't you want to, Lyman?"
she asked.

I was out of hearing.

WAYNE "BIG" MUNN WILL WRESTLE HERE JULY 23

Noted Mat Artist Will Appear Here On Double Windup Card With Slav

Promoters Hope to Secure George Hill as Opponent for "Man Mountain"

A DOUBLE windup wrestling program, featuring Wayne "Big" Munn and Martin Plesina in separate bouts, will be offered Appleton sport fans at the Armory Friday evening, July 23. It was announced Wednesday by Elmer Johnston, local matchmaker.

Munn, the noted Nebraska football star who deserted his classes one day to defeat Ed Strangler Lewis for the world's heavyweight wrestling title, is now on a tour of the state. He was induced to show in Appleton only after considerable difficulty.

His opponent will be selected within a few days, according to Mr. Johnston, who is hopeful of securing George Hill, former Appleton wrestler, to meet the "Tarzan" of the mat. If local promoters are unable to get Hill, some worthy mat performer will be substituted, Johnston promised. Wires to Hill have failed to reach him thus far, but every possible effort will be made to get in touch with him.

Sharing equal prominence on the card will be clemens, whose appearance local fans have long been clamoring for. He will wrestle to a finish with an opponent of recognized ability. Plesina and his former manager, Joe Marsh, who parted ways during the Hill-Plesina controversy a few months ago, have always claimed that the mat game was in control of a trust, and the noted Star is anxious to prove to fans he can defeat any member of the alleged trust.

Munn's appearance here will no doubt be greeted enthusiastically by local fans. The 265 pounds Nebraska has been turning down offers from all parts of the country because long jumps to smaller cities were considered too unprofitable for him. Ever since the ex-football star handled Champion Ed Strangler Lewis like a sack of meal and a welter like a ring into a hospital at Kansas City, sporting enthusiasts of practically every community in the country have wanted to see the "Man Mountain" in action.

A straight admission of $1 plus tax will be charged for the card, according to Mr. Johnston. This price will hold for any seat in the house. That the Armory will be packed to capacity appears evident from the interest which has been manifested in the appearance of the two mat stars.

CHICAGO MAY GET DEMPSEY BATTLE

Tex Rickard, Promoter, Will Have Announcement Ready Next Week

New York—Tex Rickard is still dicker with Chicago interests in an endeavor to find a home for his orphan heavyweight fight.

"The fight positively will be held this year," Rickard said, "and right now everything points toward Chicago. I am holding off any definite announcement for a few days at the request of certain big New York state men who harbor the suspicion that it can be held here in New York."

"A syndicate of Chicago men have offered me as much money as I would realize from the match if held in New York but I am holding off until all hope of staging the match in New York is exhausted."

"I'll be ready to make public my plans not later than next week. I have promised Dempsey I will name the site before August 1 but it will be sooner than that."

"Chicago furnishes an ideal spot for such a contest."

St. Paul, Minn.—(P)—Billy Petrol, Fargo, N. D., knocked out Johnny Rocco, New Rochelle, N. Y. (8.)

Ray Ryehell, Chicago, outpointed Pete Sarmiento, Philippines. (10.)

Indianapolis—Billy Showers, of Chicago, outpointed Johnny Simpson, of San Antonio, 10.)

HELPFUL HINTS TO GOLFING STARS

ABE MITCHELL—WETHERED'S LONG BALL
Mr. Wethered hits the ball very cleanly, and not often does he hit it into the sky, a point which is due to his club head traveling well after the ball before the head begins to come up. Put another way, here is a long, flat ball in the swing which is seen immediately before the club head reaches the ball, and also just after the ball has gone. This is just as it should be, and the onlooker, who is out to see those things, will notice that his left arm comes well forward on the line of flight.
We cannot drive well if we pull the arms in as the club head meets the ball, and here Mr. Wethered is an example to us all, for at the finish his hands are well out and away from the body.
He is, to my idea, one of the modern school who hit the ball first and let the follow through take care of itself, and his length off the tee, and with iron clubs, is truly remarkable, for he does not appear to be physically strong, but he has all the art of good timing, without which even the strongest cannot drive the ball far.

BUS DRIVERS SET PACE IN LEAGUE WITH SEVEN WINS

Defeat Office Softball Team 12 to 6 and Maintain Loop Lead

TRACTION LEAGUE
	W. L. Pct.
Bus Drivers	7 0 1.000
Railway	2 3 .409
Office	2 4 .333
Gas Power	1 5 .166

Defeating the Office softball team 12 to 6 at the Fourth ward diamond Tuesday evening, the Bus Drivers won their seventh consecutive game in the Traction League keeping their record perfect. It was Jake Skall's eighth win, he having pitched the American League squad to a victory the other evening.

Although the Office team got to Skall for 12 hits, excellent support, including three double plays, took him out of difficulty on several occasions. He struck out six batters. Van Roy, Van Abel, and the Kranzush brothers played the leading roles in the Bus Drivers attack, while McElroy and Weiss were the heavy hitters for the Office.

Score by innings:
Office 2 0 0 0 0 2 2 0—6 12 5
Bus 0 0 6 0 0 1 3 2 0—12 10 4
Batters—Bus: Skall and Kranzush; Office: Burmister and Lewellyn.

BIB FALK BACK IN OLD STRIDE AGAIN

Not a great deal has been said of Bib Falk, White Sox outfielder, since he was hit by a line drive in the right leg, which he displayed two years ago when he had a great campaign. With the season at the halfway mark Falk is right behind Ruth and Hallman in the clotting column.

WIN BALLOU COMING ALONG WITH BROWNS

Win Ballou, the young pitcher Stanley Harris sent to the St. Louis Browns in a trade last winter, is coming along nicely. The other day he turned in a nifty win over the White Sox, allowing but six hits and two runs. Sheely, Falk and some of the big clouters in the Comiskey battery found the tot a puzzle.

Jackie Reynolds, of Muncie, Ind., won on a foul from Eddie Dyer of Detroit. (10.)

MEETS BERLENBACH

Jack Delaney, popular New England pugilist, will get another chance to win the light heavyweight championship when he clashes with his rival, Paul Berlenbach, July 15. Delaney, who many experts claim is the most likely contender for Dempsey's laurels (a few years hence) has met the Astoria Assassin twice before. Back in 1924 he kayoed Berly in four sessions just at the time the latter was hanging up a string of successive knockout victories of unusual length. Last December they met again. Berlenbach winning on points after Delaney had all but duplicated his 1924 triumph. Delaney stands a good chance of depriving Paul of his laurels this time; in fact such a feat wouldn't cause any great surprise.

VALLEY SPORT GOSSIP

Thanks to Gietzen's fine hurling, Oshkosh continued to hold its wide advantage in the Valley loop. The Sawdust City twirler's fast one was hopping just right and Kimberly was swinging everywhere but on the ball. Elvay of the Papermakers took the stroke out route while the 6-0 whitewash was on.

Once again Kimberly looked like a ship without a rudder as Marty Lamers was not among those in attendance. The veteran second sacker took another day off and the Papermakers' inner works didn't look so good. It is funny what a difference a veteran hand will make in the performance of a ball club.

The Appletonians probably are mighty glad that their two day invasion of Green Bay is at an end because if they had stayed a few days longer they might have been rubbing noses with Neenah at the bottom of the heap. As it was Bantz & Co. dropped a pair of games, both by decisive final counts.

Somebody down in Neenah tried to play an April Fool joke on the valley fans by sending out the report that Neenah had spanked the Fondy Cardinals to the tune of 4 to 1. This score went around the circuit and it was clinched up but the fact remains that Paris and his cohorts won the game, 6 to 0.

Nixon the Neenah slabster, only allowed five hits but a triple by Steen coupled with several fielding slips handed the fray to the Cardinals on a silver platter. Leu, on the mound for Fondy was nicked six times but all the howl we of the single victory and his team mates gave him errorless help.

Clusman, the Bay shortstop, paver the way for seven of the Green Sox in the 14 to 2 wallowing of Appleton. He cracked out a pair of homers, both of which would have done credit to Joe Reik in his palmy days. There was two men on for the first swat and the bascocks were loaded for second Ruthian.

Felkner, the Oshkosh backstop, swung a wicked stick in the Kimberly game. He got three hits in four trips to the plate and one of 'em was a twin sacker. Felker has been improving rapidly behind the log and right now he ranks as one of the leading receivers in the Fox River Valley baseball circuit.

Ashman, the unusually reliable pal-dist of the Appleton club, had a jinx on his trail in the Green Bay games. He went hitless in both encounters as fancy fielding stunts robbed him on safeties. In Sunday's game, Rod missed on a third strike and had a passed ball. This is out of the ordinary for him.

Harry Meyers, boss of the Kenosha club, pulled one for the hoogs the other day in Sheboygan. The Chairs were way ahead of his club when he announced a protest to the umpire, claiming the Sheboygan team was not uniformed in accordance with the league rules. The national game gets funnier all the time.

Wayne "Big" Munn and Marty Plesina, two of the topnotch wrestlers on the mat today are making a tour of the state and they will be matched against a pair of big fellows in Green Bay on July 26. This is

FOURNIER HITS 3 HOMERS, BUT BROOKLYN LOSES

Athletics Gain Whole Game on Yankees and Trail Leaders by Six Games

Jacques Fournier is quite a lively Brooklyn infielder. Weakened by an injury which had brought a long lay off, he hit only three home runs against the Louisville Cardinals Tuesday, in a game which Brooklyn lost 12 to 10. This tied the modern major league record.

Johnny Butler, Brooklyn infielder, also created something of a record during the afternoon, hitting his first homer as a major leaguer. Seven runs in the sixth gave St. Louis a winning margin. Bill Sherdel left handed all the way for the Cardinals despite 16 enemy safeties. Cincinnati outslugged Philadelphia to retain its four game margin over all comers, winning by 10 to 7. Everett Scott, former American league shortstop, had to leave the contest with a twisted ankle after shooting a single.

Hack Wilson's home run in the sixth eventually gave the Chicago Cubs victory over Boston 2 to 1, as Heathcote scored ahead of him. It was the former Giants thirteenth of the year, putting him in the lead in his circuit. The Yankees lead in the American League was cut to six games when they lost to Ted Wells of Detroit 5 to 4, and the Athletics defeated St. Louis 3 to 2.

The Athletics won in the eighth inning when Hauser, pinch hitting for Cochran, smashed out a homer, scoring Poole ahead.

Three triples and four doubles came from Washington bats in the champions 13 to 9 verdict over Chicago. McNeely had a double and four singles for a perfect day at bat, while Ruel accomplished as much with a double and two singles.

The Red Sox could muster only four hits from the service of Karr of Cleveland and went down 6 to 1. Eichrodt led the Indians attack with a triple, double and single.

KIMBERLY AIMS AT FONDY GAME

Crippled Lineup Expected to Be Strengthened Before Sunday Tilt

Kimberly—Kimberly ball team will have a new infielder Sunday when it meets Fond du Lac at Kimberly park. Fond du Lac has defeated Kimberly twice in former meetings, the last battle going to Fondy 5 to 6. Since then Kimberly has lost a number of its most consistent performers to the Combined Locks team, and will have to do some real ball playing to maintain its present standing in the race.

If Kimberly defeats Fond du Lac it will be within half a game of the Fondy third placers, and right up among the leaders. With a crippled lineup which included Len Smith, the

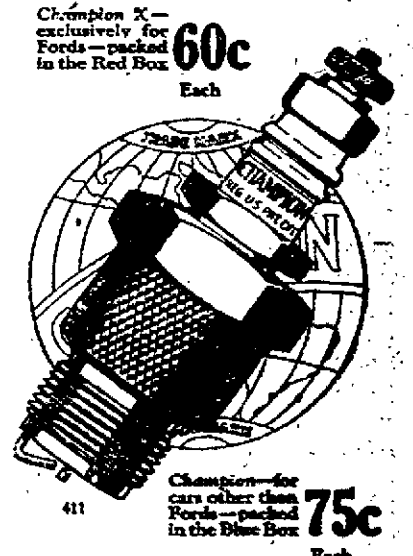

LEE MEADOWS DROPS HIS FIRST GAME

Lee Meadows, star Pittsburgh hurler, finally met defeat after turn-Cards took Lee down the line the other day, counting six runs on eight hits. Meadows' mark for straight victories before being tripped was the best of the 1926 campaign in either major league, however.

Kimberly southpaw, Marty Lamers, second baseman Red Cavil and John Phillips Kimberly managed to hold Oshkosh well in hand in every frame but the first when the Soxmen chased four runs across the plate. With an even break and some of the absentees back in the lineup, Kimberly will give Fond du Lac its fill of baseball here Sunday.

ALASKAN TRIBES WORRY OVER NEW GENERATION

Atka, Alaska—Even here on Atka Island of the Aleutian group, 2000 miles from continental United States, is the younger generation causing grave concern among its elders.

The older Aleut Indians complain that their daughters are dancing to the music of the white man's phonograph when they should be weaving the Attubaskets, for which the tribe was once famous.

Counselors of the tribe appealed to a United States bureau of Education school teacher here, who was told that her pupils were but a scant dozen baskets last winter. The teacher has added a class in basket making to the three R's of her curriculum and has employed an aged native woman to teach it.

Joseph Gillott, a jeweler, invented steel pens by accident. He spilt a steel instrument just as he was called to affix his signature to a document. No quill being handy, he used the bit of steel and found it worked better than his old quill. He built a fortune by manufacturing the pens.

Bobby Tells How

than almost any one else in the world, and keep my hands loose and close to my knickers—in addressing the ball. My arms do not seem to get far away from my body in the backswing and I suppose this is what they mean in saying my style is compact. My stance is very slight open for all shots except the putt, that is the left foot is a bit farther back from the line of shot than the right. I do not regard this as important! The main point in my stance, as I understand it is to play the ball opposite the left heel in all normal full iron shots for distance.

I asked about hands, arms and grip.

"I never think about my hands. The regular overlapping or Vardon grip seems to take care of that phase very well. I think that grip is best if your hands are reasonably big and strong. The club is held strictly in the fingers rather than delicately. Don't squeeze it. I can spoil a shot any time by tightening my grip consciously. I use the same grip for every shot down to the putt where I reverse it. I take the putter back with the left hand and stroke the ball with the right. It has worked very well at times, as at Merion and Oakland and not so well on this last trip. I putted like an old woman that last round in the British open. Thirty nine putts—it was terrible!"

Bobby needs only 31 or 32 putts in his average round of championship play and his first round at St. Anne's he used only 29.

ENGLISH ROYALTY ARE RADIO FANS

London—(P)—The routine of royalty has been altered by radio just as it has changed the habits of millions of other people throughout the world.

Whorcas King George, formerly, spent many an evening over his postage stamp collection, now, with wireless sets in Buckingham palace and Windsor castle, his majesty often listens in to what the radio waves are saying.

Queen Mary, too, is fond of the wireless, both she and the king preferring car phones to the elaborate loud speakers which were originally arranged for them.

KING BORIS SEEKS WIFE FROM U. S.

Wants Queen With Money, Beauty, Gentle Birth and Sympathetic Nature

Sofia, Bulgaria—(P)—An American woman has a chance to become Queen of Bulgaria if she possesses beauty, gentle birth, a sympathetic nature and moderate means.

These are the qualities demanded in a wife by King Boris, the only bachelor-sovereign in the world. His friends say he has given up hope of finding a companion for his throne among the Royalities of Europe, and that his eyes now are focussed on an American girl.

Of intensely democratic and simple nature, the thirty-two-year-old ruler has always held Americans in very high regard, and is understood to have confided in his advisers more than the King to entertain no objection to sharing his crown and happiness with a fair heart from across the Atlantic.

A POOR MAN

He virtually has no means of his own, his country is poor, and, therefore, he must seek a wife who possesses a competence of her own.

His own civil history dates from the revolution in 1918, when he is added to this, however, he is allowed about $100,000 a year, the upkeep of his various palaces, of which he has three, two in Sofia and one at Varna on the Black sea.

While this sum is quite adequate for the maintenance of his palaces and the salaries of the many court functionaries, it is scarcely enough to allow the King to entertain on anything like a liberal scale.

Contrary to the belief of many, Boris is not of Slav origin, but is of noble German birth. His mother was Princess Marie Louis of Bourbon-Parme and his father was Duke (later King) Ferdinand of Saxe.

The young sovereign is of medium height, slight build, has sparse black hair, sympathetic grey eyes, pleasing, spiritual face prominent aquiline nose, and firm mouth. He is described by his friends as possessing a tender, gentle nature, much sentiments and affection, a keen intellect, and a wide variety of interests.

FRIENDS FAVOR AMERICAN

He loves flowers, birds, animals and nature in every form and is an expert hunter.

He is lonely, and craves companionship. The only relative he has in Bulgaria is his younger sister, who also is unmarried. Of animal friends he has many, including dogs, cats, horses, monkeys, bears, and even elephants.

His friends say he possesses everything which a King ought to have, except a wife and real happiness.

Those who think he is now encouraging him to look among the democratic womanhood of the United States for a queen to share his throne.

Markets

INDUSTRY STOCK LEADS PRICES

General Motors, Texas Gulf Sulphur and General Electric Score

New York—(P)—High priced industrial shares led the upward movement of stock prices which was resumed at the opening of Wednesday's market. General Motors rebounded to the record high price established Tuesday. Texas Gulf Sulphur reached a new top for the year and General Electric scored an initial gain of three points. Standard railroad issues moved moderately higher.

Revival of speculative operations in motor and copper stocks featured the early dealings and played an important part in shaping the more favorable market sentiment. The rise was accelerated by aggressive bidding for a few popular issues such as General Electric, which quickly extended its gain to more than 5 points and General Motors, which crossed 160 into new high ground.

With carloadings passing the million mark for the seventh week this year and a heavy crop movement in prospect an additional incentive was found for accumulation of such representative rails as Atchafalaya and Union Pacific but the advance came of the Van Sweringen conference as a slower pace. Nickel Plate issues marked time pending the outcome of the Van Sweringen conference with the Pere Marquette on the revised merger plan.

French and Belgian currencies were strengthened by the improvement in the financial conditions of these countries, while demand sterling held firm at $4.85 15-16.

The closing was steady. Total sales approximated 1,300,000 shares.

MOVIES MAY USE REAL SCENERY

Predict Rapid Progress in Production of Moving Pictures

Hollywood—(P)—Scientific progress in motion picture production is rapidly doing away with the idea that pictures can be made only in Hollywood or where it is sunny, Clarence G. Badger avers.

Badger, who has directed many pictures for Gloria Swanson, Will Rogers and Raymond Griffith, made some predictions, with regard to what the making of movies a few years hence will be like.

Quick transportation will enable movie companies to reach places where nature, or possibly man, already has prepared the scenery for some desired set. North Pole pictures will be made at the North pole and not on some studio lot in southern California with artificial snow and trick polar bears.

Improved cameras will make the cumbersome settings and equipment unnecessary. Pictures will be made in real homes, real stores, real mines and so on.

There will be movie studios in many large cities, Herbert Brenon, another director, joined Badger to predict that the coming of the new age of the future will be like the studio of any other artist, a quiet, secluded place where designing and brain are done.

U. S. REPLIES TO OBJECTIONS ON BRIDGE RAISING

People of Little Chute Are Reluctant to Comply With Federal Order

An answer to the complaint of the village of Little Chute that either the United States government or Outagamie-co is responsible for raising the level of the drawbridge over the Fox river within the limits of the village has been filed in federal court in Milwaukee by the United States assistant district attorney.

The answer neither admits nor denies the allegation that the village never bound itself to maintain the highway over the canal; or that at the time of the order of the Secretary of War, March 11, 1925, the highway and bridge had been adopted by the Outagamie-co board as a part of the county highway. In both cases the answer puts the village to proof as to the allegations in its complaint.

In the counterclaim of the government the answer alleges that as a duly incorporated village, Little Chute has authority and is legally obligated to support and maintain the bridge as part of its highway, or a part of a village street, both for travel and navigation.

The answer asks that the complaint of the village be dismissed upon its merits, and that the village be compelled to comply with the order of the Secretary of War to raise the bridge. In the event that the court finds the village not obligated by law to repair and maintain the bridge, the answer demands that Outagamie-co be adjudged liable, if the bridge is found to be a part of the county highway.

Allegations that the village is legally obligated to support or maintain the bridge are denied in a brief recently filed by the village, which states that Little Chute is not required to maintain and operate the bridge where it crosses the canal, which is now government property. It is also denied that the bridge constitutes an obstruction to navigation, as it is now constructed.

No date has been set for hearing the motion of the United States government to dismiss the petition of the village for an order restraining the government from bringing criminal proceedings against the village for failure to comply with the governmental order to raise the bridge.

STATE WEDDINGS

PULLMAN-BIRKHOLTZ

Special to Post-Crescent
Lind—Miss Helen Pullman and Henry Birkholtz both of Lind, were united in marriage at 1 o'clock Sunday afternoon at the Lutheran parsonage. The Rev. Max Hensel performed the ceremony. The young couple were attended by Mr. and Mrs. August Birkholtz. A reception was held at the August Birkholtz home after the ceremony for the immediate families. Mr. and Mrs. Birkholtz will live on Mr. Birkholtz farm in Lind. The bride recently came here from Germany.

The vogue in this country for artificial flowers and fruits has increased the value of those made in the vicinity of Dresden, Germany, and brought here, to more than $1,500,000 a year.

"GEORGE QUINN IN TRUSTING FOR CUPID—A WILLIAM T. SUPPINE ATTRACTION AT THE NEW BLUO THREE DAYS STARTING THURSDAY."

Cold Weather Puts Crimp In Sale Of Fly Swatters

Everybody's wondering if there will be real use for the fly swatter this year.

The weather has been so cold this spring and early summer that the flies have hardly had a chance to put in their appearance in the usual numbers and for that reason, it is said, there has been a slump in the swatter business.

Usually by this time there is ample use for a good, practical swatter, but this year the weather has been against the pests and in favor of the human beings. And nobody is kicking.

It doesn't pay to kick so early in the game. There is plenty of time for a good healthy crop of flies to form, it is said. Perhaps at some time you have been bitten by a house fly. On the other hand, it is pretty sure that you have not been, for house flies do not bite. If a fly bit you, the offender was a stable fly which looks very much like the common house variety. House flies do not bite, but they are dangerous as the carriers of disease germs. They lay their eggs commonly in manure and other waste. Naturally a fly that matches in such a place is potentially a very dangerous insect, particularly when he has access to food that is left uncovered in summer.

It is easy to understand why these insects are always with us in spite of all "Swat the Fly" campaigns when we realize that in summer they produce a new generation every 12 or 14 days. Each female during her life produces about 400 eggs in from two to four batches. These eggs hatch in less than 24 hours and the life of the flies produced is from 70 to 91 days.

A WOMAN'S BATTLE

A woman who is fighting for her health and her family's happiness is a valiant soldier. She wages her battle in her own kitchen. She has no thrilling bugles to cheer her on, no waving banners. Often she becomes discouraged for ill health is a powerful foe to contend with.

For more than half a century, women have found Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a faithful ally in their struggle for better health. Have you become discouraged by the same struggle? Give Lydia E. Pinkham's Compound a chance to be your ally, too. adv.

YOUR QUESTION AND ITS ANSWER

By J. A. Panneck, D. C.
Palmer Chiropractor

QUESTION—What is the cause of my taking cold every time the weather changes, and what will your methods do for me?

ANSWER—Your susceptibility to colds will cease to exist when the four great channels of waste elimination are doing their work properly. Colds come only when one or more of these organs are sluggish in action and poisons are not readily eliminated. Chiropractic adjustments given with the Palmer system will rid you of this tendency to colds by correcting the real cause. The chiropractor will remove the obstruction that's interfering with the nerve circuit which is responsible for faulty waste elimination.

It is positively proving its value in 95 per cent. of all diseases. Come in and let us find the cause of your susceptibility to colds.

QUESTION—How long will it take me to get well under your care if I decide to take adjustments for stomach trouble?

ANSWER—This depends entirely upon the severity of your case, the changes that have been produced in your body because of the repeated attacks, the length of standing and the patient's vitality.

WILL MAKE CUT IN FREIGHT RATE

Wort Is Advised of Reduction Between Appleton and Southeastern States

Freight rates between Appleton and that section of the United States southeast of the Mississippi and Ohio river junction will be reduced from 9 to 16 cents a hundred pounds in the five rate classes, according to word just received by R. G. Wort, manager of Appleton Chamber of Commerce traffic bureau from the Western Trunk Line carriers. The first class rate will be reduced from $1.33 for 100 pounds to $1.21½. The reduction was brought about through the Interstate Commerce commission at the request of Mr. Wort for an investigation when he found that the rate from Cincinnati to St. Paul and other western cities was lower than for cities in this part of Wisconsin. The territory south of the Mississippi and Ohio river crossings includes practically all of the southern states.

The date when the new rates will go into effect has not been named. The balance of the schedule for rate reduction is second class, $1.10½ to 99 cents; third class, 90 cents to 79 cents; fourth class, 66 cents to 50 cents; fifth class, 48 cents to 39½ cents.

CLOSE SWIMMING POOL ON THURSDAY

The municipal swimming pool at the filtration plant will be closed all day Thursday. It was announced Wednesday by Ted Bieler, supervisor of the pool.

"With a circus showing in the city, few if any youngsters will think of swimming Thursday," he said. "Swimming is a popular sport, but not on circus day."

LUTHERAN CHURCH GIVES CHILDREN'S DAY PICNIC

Special to Post-Crescent
Maple Creek—The Immanuel Lutheran church held its children's day picnic Sunday on the church grounds. The Rev. Timml started the program with a 10 o'clock service. A large tent had been rented from the Waukegan Fair Association in which dinner was served to several hundred people. A variety of amusements was provided for the children. The New London band furnished music throughout the day. Supper was served after the program. The interior of the church was recently redecorated and many of the guests took this opportunity to inspect it.

Turkish housewives refuse to change their methods of making the famous Turkish coffee, and recent efforts to interest them in electric percolators failed.

A New Era in Baby Grand Construction is plainly seen in the latest model
Cable-Nelson

IF YOU COULD SEE and try all the Baby Grands on the market, today—and there are many of them.

And you were to examine and play upon this new Cable-Nelson, 4 feet 11 inch Grand—then you would see and experience the difference.

There is a difference—an outstanding difference, that even one who is inexperienced will readily discover.

This new Cable-Nelson model is really a parlor grand of small dimensions. It conforms to the highest concepts of grand piano construction. Its musical tone is satisfying to the trained musician. Its touch is even and instantly responsive and it is equipped with a sostenuto and shifter pedal, exactly the same as those in concert grands.

So much for the piano—musically.

For the home owner—the person who attaches importance to beauty of design and richness and depth of finish—it is here that this little Grand also sets a new standard of excellence, for its beauty simply beggars description.
